U. S. Planes Raid Viet Targets After Guerrilla Assault

Proposes U.N. Action

Senator Morse Appeals For End Of Viet Nam War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse called on the Johnson administration today for an all-out effort to "stop the war" in Viet Nam and "to exhaust every possible means of doing so through the United Nations."

The Oregon Democrat, long an outspoken critic of President Johnson's Southeast Asian policy, declared that the President's 20th anniversary speech to the U.N. last week "unfortunately honored the charter of the organization more in the breach than in the observance."

Noting that Johnson expressed a willingness to accept whatever effective action the U.N. might take, Morse contended the President said nothing "to indicate that the United States is willing to accept the obligations for international behavior placed upon us by our signature on that charter."

"We can not stop the war alone," Morse declared in a Senate speech. "But the United Nations could, if it would, and the United States has more to gain from a U.N.-imposed peace than from a continuation of the fighting that can lead anywhere but to victory on our terms."

If anything has been learned, Morse said, "it is that the United States, acting alone, can not end the war."

While Morse spoke in the Senate, House Republican Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan scheduled a morning news conference at which he seemed likely to get the opportunity to defend himself against criticism of House GOP chieftains Wednesday by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

Mansfield told the Senate that House Republican leaders are telling Johnson to step up the bombing of North Viet Nam and calling for a "complete victory" to be achieved without use of U.S. ground forces. Unless the President follows their advice, Mansfield said, the Republicans are threatening to withdraw their support.

Rebels Slay 1 American At Air Base

400 Marines Land To Bolster Forces In Qui Nhon Area

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong killed one American, destroyed three planes and damaged three others in a hit-and-run attack on the Da Nang air base today. But U.S. Air Force and Navy planes struck at North Viet Nam during the day without letup.

Bridges, barracks and radar installations were among the prime targets, and more propaganda leaflets were dropped over populated areas, a U.S. spokesman said. He said all planes returned safely.

More U.S. Marines landed in South Viet Nam, at the coastal city of Qui Nhon. A U.S. spokesman said between 400 and 500 were coming ashore from 7th Fleet ships and would provide security for the Qui Nhon area as well as "combat support for the republic of South Viet Nam's armed forces."

Qui Nhon, 270 miles northeast of Saigon, is the fourth area to be defended by the Leathernecks. The others are the air bases at Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon, Chu Lai, 20 miles south of Da Nang, and Phu Bai, 35 miles north of Da Nang.

In the central highlands 150 miles south of Da Nang, four Americans and about 50 Vietnamese were killed in a Communist ambush near Cheo Reo. But the Red guerrillas were driven off with heavy losses after a day of close-in fighting.

The unofficial total of American combat dead in Viet Nam totaled 445 since December, 1961.

The hit-and-run attack on Da Nang was carried out while a majority of the Americans on the key base were asleep.

U.S. military authorities in Saigon said their information indicated a small group of guerrillas—possibly six men—infiltrated onto the base with explosives and 57mm recoilless rifles.

A spokesman said barbed wire circling the base was found cut.

A U.S. spokesman said one U.S. Air Force policeman was killed by small arms fire and two U.S. Marines were wounded.

Two C130 Hercules transports and an F102 Delta Dagger jet interceptor were destroyed, and another Hercules and two Delta Daggers were damaged, the spokesman said. All were at the southern end of the airstrip.

He said fire from the recoilless rifles hit the four-engine turboprop transports and jet fighters.

A U.S. Army spokesman announced a Communist guerrilla from North Viet Nam was captured following the attack. He said the guerrilla admitted taking part in the assault.

Pope Slated To Visit UN's Fall Session

Vatican Aide Hopes Paul Will Address General Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Vatican's United Nations observer said today he expected Pope Paul VI to attend the next session of the U.N. General Assembly to start in September.

Msgr. Alberto Giovannetti, the Holy See observer, told a reporter it is premature to speculate on just when the Pope might be here or how long he might stay. But he expressed hope the Pope could address the 114-nation assembly.

"We hope that the Holy Father will come during the 20th session of the General Assembly," he said. "The session will start Sept. 21. There will be a recess at Christmastime. Then the assembly will resume in the new year. It is quite likely that the Holy Father will be here sometime during that period."

Judge Backs Decision To Free Convict

PITTSBURGH — Judge Henry Ellenhogen Wednesday reaffirmed his decision to free from Western Pennsylvania Penitentiary a 53-year-old former Steubenville man convicted of armed robbery.

Edward Spensky, who was convicted on another charge in Columbiana County 12 years ago, has been ordered released on a habeaus corpus writ by the judge who maintains the Natrona (Pa.) man was unjustly sentenced to 10-20 years for holdup of a Natrona Heights pool room.

Judge Ellenbogen said Spensky did not have "adequate counsel" as defined in the U.S. Supreme Court decision in the Gideon vs. Wainwright case. Spensky had pleaded no defense in the armed robbery conviction.

"Spensky never received a legal trial and never made a legal plea," Judge Ellenbogen said yesterday.

He conferred for 20 minutes with Spensky who was brought from the Allegheny County Jail. The Judge said the meeting concerned future employment for the prisoner.

Present at the meeting was Spensky's brother, Theodore Spensky of Steubenville. Another brother, Steve Spensky, a pressman for a West Virginia newspaper, telephoned the judge and said he would provide a home for Spensky and obtain a job for him.

Senate Report Given

Baker Case Stirs 'Watchdog' Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a sequel to the politically high-voltage Bobby Baker investigation, Senate leaders planned to activate today a new permanent committee to police senatorial ethics.

Three senators of each party already have been chosen for the new watchdog committee on standards and conduct, created by the Senate a year ago. But Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said it was decided to hold up announcing them until the Baker probe was finished.

That came Wednesday, with a final report from the Rules Committee that said Baker had flagrantly abused his office to "feather his own nest." The report recommended careful consideration of the possibility of indicting Baker for violation of conflict of interest laws.

The committee's Republican minority renewed its charges of a democratic cover - up and whitewash, saying the investigation was incomplete because of the refusal of Democrats to call numerous witnesses.

Baker parlayed his outside business holdings whole serving as the $19,600-a-year secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority. He resigned his Senate post Oct. 7, 1963, just before the investigation started.

A one-time Senate page boy from Pickens, S.C., Baker was reported to be in California Wednesday and could not be reached for comment. He had invoked the Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination in two appearances before the Rules Committee and refused to answer questions.

To try to avoid future conflict of interest cases, the committee in its report Wednesday recommended immediate activation of the watchdog committee. Mansfield said this would be done.

The new committee will be responsible for investigating any improper or illegal conduct by senators and Senate employes and for recommending disciplinary action.

One sharp disagreement within the Rules Committee was over a Republican allegation that contractor Matthew H. McCloskey, former ambassador to Ireland, slipped a political payoff to the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund in connection with the big District of Columbia stadium McCloskey's Philadelphia firm built.

The Democratic majority report called this whole story a figment of the imagination of Don B. Reynolds, a key witness in the investigation. He is a local insurance man with whom Baker was associated. The GOP minority said the stadium situation involving McCloskey was "highly irregular."

The majority report said there was no proof of improprieties in connection with Reynolds' sale of two $100,000 life insurance policies to President Johnson. The first was sold in

Final Plans Are Outlined For Midland Celebration

Final plans for Midland's gala Independence Day celebration Monday will be discussed today during a luncheon meeting of the Executive Committee at the Esquire Restaurant.

Mayor Eli Corak is general chairman of the committee.

From the mid-morning parade to the multi-colored fireworks at night, a jammed-pack program again is being arranged for the thousands of tri-state residents who will converge on the Beaver County community.

The afternoon program will include concerts, a variety show featuring "The New Community Singers" and the Sweet Adelines, children's races and a Junior American Legion baseball game at Crucible Field.

The evening program again will highlight six drum and bugle corps in competition and exhibition. The Warren (Pa.) Corn Planters and the Erie (Pa.) Shoreliners are two new corps who will appear in this year's competition.

India Denies Truce Means Withdrawals

Ayub Khan Claims Troops Scheduled To Quit Kutch Area

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Indian officials today denied Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan's report that the cease-fire agreement for the Rann of Kutch had been accompanied by a second agreement for a general withdrawal of troops all along the Indian-Pakistani frontier.

Ayub Khan announced in Karachi that he and Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri had agreed in London to order the immediate withdrawal along "the entire India-Pakistan border."

Ayub said the agreement for the general withdrawal is in some respects "more important than the pact on the Rann of Kutch dispute."

"It is not true. We know nothing about such an agreement," said K.P.S. Menon, Indian foreign ministry spokesman.

G. G. Mirchandani, a defense ministry spokesman, said no Indian unit outside Kutch has been ordered to withdraw.

"It is implicit in the Kutch agreement that there is bound to be an easing of the situation," said Mirchandani, "and now that the Kutch is out of the way we are hoping things will ease along the whole border."

Troops in the Kutch, a desolate Pakistan-India border area on the Arabian Sea, were ordered to withdraw with the beginning of the cease-fire at dawn today. The pull-back is scheduled to take seven days.

L.K. Jha, Shastri's principal private secretary, also denied Ayub's statement but added that "a lessening of tension and perhaps some troop movement would be a logical consequence of the Kutch agreement." Jha said he had been at Shastri's side throughout the Kutch negotiations during the Commonwealth conference in London last week.

Shastri was silent but scheduled a broadcast to the nation tonight. He was expected to defend the pact against charges by extremist Hindu organizations that its terms — specifically those calling for joint patrolling of land India claims — were a surrender to Pakistan.

Licenses Suspended For Liquor Charges

Joseph R. Davis, West Virginia state beer commissioner in Charleston, announced today that three establishments in and near Chester have had their beer licenses suspended on charges of selling liquor by the drink.

The Red Dog Bar, located on Route 30 about two miles east of Chester, has been suspended from selling beer for 60 days and is under probation. Owner of the establishment is Vincent Pecora.

John Ludovici's Holiday Lounge, located at 80 Carolina Ave., is under a 15-day suspension, while the Half Moon, located about a half-mile east of the Red Dog and owned by Robert Fryer, has been suspended for 10 days.

Dominicans Eye Jimenez As President

Rebels, Junta May Reach Agreement On Crisis Solution

WASHINGTON (AP) — The name of Jose Antonio Jimenez, an elderly landowner, was mentioned by Dominican sources here today as a possible choice for provisional president of the Dominican Republic.

Both rebel and civilian-military junta sources here said they have received reports from Santo Domingo indicating that the opposing Dominican factions might agree on the appointment of Jimenez as a means to end the 68-day-old crisis.

State Department sources said they were not aware of any agreement by the opposing sides on Jimenez for the provisional presidency, but did not deny the possibility he was being considered.

The Organization of American States has suggested the Dominican conflict be settled through the establishment of a provisional government to carry the country to general elections under OAS supervision in six to nine months.

Many Dominican leaders have been under consideration but there are no indications yet when a solution might be reached.

Survives Close Vote

House Approves Rent Subsidy Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A housing bill containing a modified version of President Johnson's rent supplement plan headed for comparatively easy going in the Senate today after one of the closest votes in the House on any Johnson administration proposal.

The controversial portion of the $5.3-billion measure — the provision for subsidizing rent of low income families — survived a 208-202 vote in the House Wednesday only after the Democrats handling it had drastically modified it from the original administration conception of a program for families above the actual needy level.

As the House finally passed it, or a 245-169 roll call vote, the bill closely resembles legislation already approved by the Senate Banking Committee. The Senate version carries a somewhat higher price tag, but estimates of the ultimate cost of a four-year program embracing grants, loans and loan guarantees are imprecise.

Under the House bill, $150 million would be provided over the next four years for rent supplements to families who could qualify for — but do not live in — low cost public housing. Regulations on income ceilings for families qualifying for such public housing now vary from city to city.

The help would go only to the needy whose rent exceeds 25 per cent of the family income and who live in housing owned by nonprofit or limited dividend organizations. None of the supplements would go to tenants of private landlords.

President Johnson praised approval of the bill as an historic step. He said the provision for rent supplements will provide new homes for hundreds of thousands "condemned to slums." And he said it would

'Need Two Inches Of Rain'

Corn, Hay Crops Are Hit By Countywide 'Drought'

A 2-inch rain is needed immediately to help save Columbiana County's faltering corn and hay crops, Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, commented today as he issued a summary for June.

"We are in a drought," Copeland commented, explaining that the rainfall for May and June fell four inches short of normal. February was the last month in which precipitation was above normal, he added.

He said "corn will suffer worst" from the lack of rainfall, explaining 11 inches of rain is required in the next two months to produce a normal crop. The normal rainfall in July and August is a little over 7 inches, he added.

In normal weather, corn can draw on the moisture reserve in the ground, but there is no reserve available this year, Copeland said.

Copeland said the first corn crop has reached the traditional "knee high by the Fourth of July" but the second planting "is not doing any good."

The lack of rainfall also has dried up pasture land and livestock is on winter feed, the weather observer said. The animals are being fed hay and other feed that normally would be held in reserve for winter, he explained.

The second cutting of hay will be very small, Copeland said. The second cutting of the forage will be made in July, but the hay is very short for lack of moisture, he said.

The fact that temperatures have been below average helped the lack of rainfall, Copeland said. If there had been a hot June, the temperature would have drawn additional moisture from the ground and crops would have fared worse than they did, he said.

The average June temperature in Columbiana County is 66.8 degrees, but last month the average was 65.3. There was a high of 89 on June 28 and a low of 38 on June 14.

June's rainfall was 2.27 inches, against an average of 4.02. There were eight partly cloudy days, seven cloudy days and 15 clear days for an average of 63 per cent sunshine.

West Virginia Autos Require New Plates

If you reside in West Virginia and are driving your car today, make certain it carries the new 1965-66 license plates or you could run afoul of the law.

The deadline for putting on the new plates was last midnight. They have blue numbers on a gold background.

The State Motor Vehicles Department at Charleston reported the sale of plates well ahead of 1964.

Survives Close Vote

House Approves Rent Subsidy Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A housing bill containing a modified version of President Johnson's rent supplement plan headed for comparatively easy going in the Senate today after one of the closest votes in the House on any Johnson administration proposal.

The controversial portion of the $5.3-billion measure — the provision for subsidizing rent of low income families — survived a 208-202 vote in the House Wednesday only after the Democrats handling it had drastically modified it from the original administration conception of a program for families above the actual needy level.

As the House finally passed it, or a 245-169 roll call vote, the bill closely resembles legislation already approved by the Senate Banking Committee. The Senate version carries a somewhat higher price tag, but estimates of the ultimate cost of a four-year program embracing grants, loans and loan guarantees are imprecise.

Under the House bill, $150 million would be provided over the next four years for rent supplements to families who could qualify for — but do not live in — low cost public housing. Regulations on income ceilings for families qualifying for such public housing now vary from city to city.

The help would go only to the needy whose rent exceeds 25 per cent of the family income and who live in housing owned by nonprofit or limited dividend organizations. None of the supplements would go to tenants of private landlords.

President Johnson praised approval of the bill as an historic step. He said the provision for rent supplements will provide new homes for hundreds of thousands "condemned to slums." And he said it would

'Need Two Inches Of Rain'

Corn, Hay Crops Are Hit By Countywide 'Drought'

A 2-inch rain is needed immediately to help save Columbiana County's faltering corn and hay crops, Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, commented today as he issued a summary for June.

"We are in a drought," Copeland commented, explaining that the rainfall for May and June fell four inches short of normal. February was the last month in which precipitation was above normal, he added.

He said "corn will suffer worst" from the lack of rainfall, explaining 11 inches of rain is required in the next two months to produce a normal crop. The normal rainfall in July and August is a little over 7 inches, he added.

In normal weather, corn can draw on the moisture reserve in the ground, but there is no reserve available this year, Copeland said.

Copeland said the first corn crop has reached the traditional "knee high by the Fourth of July" but the second planting "is not doing any good."

The lack of rainfall also has dried up pasture land and livestock is on winter feed, the weather observer said. The animals are being fed hay and other feed that normally would be held in reserve for winter, he explained.

The second cutting of hay will be very small, Copeland said. The second cutting of the forage will be made in July, but the hay is very short for lack of moisture, he said.

The fact that temperatures have been below average helped the lack of rainfall, Copeland said. If there had been a hot June, the temperature would have drawn additional moisture from the ground and crops would have fared worse than they did, he said.

The average June temperature in Columbiana County is 66.8 degrees, but last month the average was 65.3. There was a high of 89 on June 28 and a low of 38 on June 14.

June's rainfall was 2.27 inches, against an average of 4.02. There were eight partly cloudy days, seven cloudy days and 15 clear days for an average of 63 per cent sunshine.

Stock Market Quiets After 2-Day Advance

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market quieted today after gaining back in two hectic days more than 25 per cent of a six-week decline.

Some prices were up, others were down. Trading was moderate.

Brokers said the pause was to be expected, after the turmoil earlier this week.

Wednesday the market smashed to its biggest gain in 19 months.

Surfy, The Seal

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Marines Nab Coastal Visitor

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — Surfy the seal found out too late it doesn't pay to get too friendly with humans. His penalty is a life term in the Norfolk Zoo.

Surfy, a 50-pound bundle of aquatic energy, first appeared at this beach resort Monday when he commandeered the motorboat of college student Tom Rose.

Rose moored offshore and went to get a cup of coffee. when he returned, Surfy was aboard, barking a few proprietary remarks.

"I barked right back at him," Rose said, "and he went over the side." But when Rose clambered aboard the craft, Surfy followed.

"We sat out there together for a long time — maybe a half hour," Rose said. It wasn't until Rose started the boat's motor that Surfy departed.

For the remainder of the afternoon he cavorted around a pier, eating fish thrown by anglers and scaring a few swimmers who may have mistaken his darting black body for that of a shark.

Getting friendly with ordinary people is one thing but messing with the U.S. Marines is another, Surfy found out Wednesday.

He (or she) was investigating a Marine seashore rifle range when his freedom came to an end. Still Surfy did himself proud in the struggle despite odds of 3-to-1.

Gunnery Sgt. Robert A. Gattis and Lance Cpls. Dallas Lawrence and Larry Wingate tried to lasso Surfy.

"The rope slipped," Gattis said. "You can't catch a seal with a rope."

Finally, the trio herded Surfy to the beach where they tried to wrap him in a poncho. A slippery seal is something akin to a greased pig.

"He wasn't about to be wrapped," Gattis said.

The Marines finally trapped Surfy in a 55-gallon drum.

He was given a tranquilizer before being transported to the zoo, where he might decide free fish and a command performance every day is even better than the freedom of the seas.

Senate Approves Bill Creating New Judges

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill that would provide 34 new U. S. District Court judges and 10 more appellate court judges in five circuits has been approved by the Senate.

The Senate passed the bill by voice vote Wednesday.

Snacking Time Is Peanut Pizzeria Time

PIZZA VIA VENETO

1 box hot roll mix
2 eggs
½ cup evaporated milk
1-3 cup peanut butter
1 teaspoon celery seed
¼ cup chopped pimiento
4 cups grated cheddar cheese
3 cups chopped salted peanuts
¼ teaspoon pepper

Prepare hot roll mix and let rise as package directs. Divide dough into two equal parts. Pat each part, using oiled hands, into a well - oiled 15x10x1-inch jelly roll pan. Beat eggs, milk and peanut butter until smooth. Add celery seed and pimiento. Stir in cheese. Spread evenly over dough, almost to the edge. Sprinkle with peanuts and pepper. Cover and let rise until light, about 30 minutes. Bake at 425 degrees F. for 12 to 15 minutes, or until brown and bubbly. Snip, with scissors, into 4x2-inch rectangles. Serve hot. Makes about 3 dozen.

PEANUT APPLE PIZZA

½ cup sugar
½ cup finely chopped salted peanuts
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ cup peanut butter
3 to 4 medium apples, peeled and sliced ½-inch thick wedges

Make half of pie crust mix as package directs. Cut a 12-inch circle from aluminum foil. Roll pastry on foil to fit circle. Trim off edge. Put foil and pastry onto baking sheet. Combine remaining pie crust mix, sugar, peanuts and spices.

Cut in peanut butter with pastry blender or 2 knives to make fine crumbs. Beginning about 1 inch from outside edge of pastry, arrange apple slices, overlapping slightly, in a circle on pastry. Arrange another circle of apple slices inside this circle. If necessary, arrange remaining apple slices inside this circle. If necessary, arrange remaining apple slices in center of pastry. Sprinkle with crumb mixture.

Turn up edge of foil with pastry. Flute edge. Bake at 450 degrees F. for 20 to 25 minutes, or until crust is browned and apples are tender. Serve warm. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Let's Forget 'Guerrillas'

For want of a better label, or second thought, the fighting men of the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam are still being called "guerrillas."

The name is misleading.

Everything the name connotes is misleading.

The fighting men of the Viet Cong, like the fighting men of South Viet Nam, the United States and Australia, all committed to the war against the Viet Cong, are waging jungle warfare, not guerrilla warfare.

They are not guerrillas in the dictionary sense, which would mean they were loosely organized, irregular troops engaged in part-time combat behind the lines of a well-organized and highly professional army, and they are not guerrillas in any other sense.

Nor are they guerrillas in any of the connotations that have been embodied in modern definitions of guerrilla fighters growing out of resistance movements in World War II.

They are jungle fighters.

The United States sent its first fighting men to Viet Nam in the hope of having them learn jungle fighting on the scene. These men were not guerrillas. The South Vietnamese they worked with were not guerrillas.

Nor was the type of combat they engaged in guerrilla-type warfare.

In the near future, the United States may incur heavy losses in jungle fighting in South Viet Nam.

It would be a discredit to the Americans who will be killed and wounded in this strange war if it were not clear that they fell under the onslaught of expert troops.

U.S. officials have been preparing the public mind for heavier losses.

They may have to engage in earnest rationalization if the United States sustains a searing defeat. There is no guarantee whatsoever that U.S. troops cannot be overrun as disastrously in Southeast Asia as they were in Korea, if they are attacked in force by the regular army of North Viet Nam, held in reserve so far.

This is the first jungle warfare experience of U.S. troops since they tackled it against the Japanese on Guadalcanal. No one thought of referring to the Japanese who developed jungle fighting into an art as anything but what they were—military specialists.

The enemy in South Viet Nam didn't invent hit-and-run combat. It was invented in its modern form by the American colonists, who harassed Lord Howe and his Red Coats.

Still Getting Used To It

There will be scarcely a quiver of misapprehension over another federal fiscal-year-end deficit—this one estimated to be $3.8 billion.

Under the rule that human beings can get used to anything if it happens often enough, the American people now take federal deficits in stride.

The viewing with alarm that accompanied every unbalanced budget a third of a century ago, when the United States learned to live beyond its income just like individuals and businesses, no longer occurs at the end of each fiscal year.

A few old-timers in Congress and financial circles still insist the federal budget should be balanced. The idea of perennial deficit takes some getting used to, but a new psychology is easing the transition into what is said to be a new era.

In the new psychology, debt is a primary tool of public finance and expansion. The national debt is like a national securities. The bigger the nation, the bigger the capitalization.

The important thing is not the debt, but ability to service it out of productivity. And as for living within income, does not the Johnson administration talk of a balanced budget in 1968?

That would be in the absence of a large-scale war. Also in the absence of a business recession. Revenue from reduced tax rates would have to exceed the yield before tax rates were reduced. And there would have to be happy outcomes for the money muddles of Britain, France and the other countries whose currencies are geared to what is left of the stability of the U.S. dollar.

Other than that, everything is rosy. The deficit is only $3.8 billion. It might have been more. Everything is relative. The national debt is only going to be $317 billion, up about $5 billion from a year ago. It might be more, too. By 1968, it will be more—a lot more.

An Issue For The GOP

The candidacy of John V. Lindsay for mayor of New York City has been brightened by the support of the city's Liberal party.

Mr. Lindsay is classified as a Republican, except by those who insist he cannot really be a Republican because he does not agree with them. The Liberal party usually has supported Democrats, but with notable exceptions.

The reason Mr. Lindsay is going to be one of the exceptions is unusually interesting. It shows how the two-party system can be adapted to political situations as they develop.

Announcing Liberal support for Mr. Lindsay, Alex Rose, a party spokesman, used these words:

"It is the big-city machines that live on party labels, and the voters are getting tired of them and growing more and more independent of them. In fact, cities like Los Angeles and Cleveland don't use any party labels in their municipal elections. Nothing illustrates better the independence of the voters than the last municipal election of 1961, when Mayor Wagner, with the help of our party, defeated the combined efforts of all the county bosses and the entire Democratic party machine."

The issue, as the policy-makers of the Liberal party, a balance-of-power group in the nation's largest city, is political bossism.

Though the incumbent mayor is a Democrat, he was elected by running against the bosses of New York's Democratic machine. As Mr. Rose said elsewhere in his announcement, the Democratic party must be kept from "reverting to normalcy . . . control, once again, by the political machine over public officials."

Therefore, the Liberal party in the New York stronghold of Democratic machine politics will back a Republican candidate for mayor.

The issue will be political bossism. If Rep. Lindsay wins, the political bossism of the Democratic machines that dominate big-city politics in this country could become a key issue in the Republican party's redevelopment, whether or not other Republicans want to claim John V. Lindsay as a member in good standing of their party.

Suggestions

By Truman Twill

If given a choice, I will line up with E. K. Fretwell Jr., president of the American Association for Higher Education.

When the National Education Association held its 103rd annual meeting in New York City, Dr. Fretwell told his fellow educators they should listen to responsible student leaders with suggestions for improving colleges and universities.

He went on to say that teaching should be tailored to the changing needs of students and took a swing at some inflexible measurements by which students presently are judged.

Other speakers at the NEA meeting backed up the same idea by acknowledging that student unrest was being caused by the frustration of getting an education under a system that breeds hostility to the existing order.

I line up with Dr. Fretwell and educators who admit all is not coming up roses in good old Academe. The problem is remote as far as my generation is concerned, but it is as real as a boil on the neck to the current college generation and is going to get touchier.

Higher education no longer is something acquired at leisure in ivy-covered halls under the tutelage of kindly old seers with straggly white manes, droning in the somnolent hush of musty classrooms.

It is a matter of highest urgency — something that needs to be acquired in jig time as a matter of survival in a breathlessly competitive world.

But fuddy-duddy ideas handed down from generation to generation by academic ancestor worshippers hold a death grip on education — and educatees want to break the grip.

If there could be a showdown between the students and their teachers, the issue could be resolved and settled promptly. But standing between students and teachers are politicians, propagandists, absolutists, meddlers, ancestor worshippers, doctrinaires, disciplinarians, do-gooders, despots and a vast assemblage of anti-intellectuals who intend to dominate education for their own ends if it takes civilization back to the Dark Ages.

These people never will concede that the aim of education is to develop a student's ability to think for himself. They cannot concede this because it is diametrically opposed to their idea of education, which is to train students to do what they think should be done — also what should be thought.

Real education brings out the latent ability of human beings to think, to reason, to inquire, to judge.

Bogus education trains the young to follow paths trod by their predecessors, including paths that led nowhere.

Why shouldn't teachers listen to student suggestions for improving education? It's the students' education?

More Trouble For The Pied Piper

Hoffa Keeps Rolling Along

By Victor Riesel

Jimmy Hoffa, who of recent days has toned down his dress and public image, slipped quietly into New York the other day. He was hiding from no one. But neither was he having any bugles blown nor was he papering the city rooms with advance flak.

Victor Riesel

He went as he came — quietly, unnoticed, unreported—but not before he cut loose with a significant speech to a Teamsters' local at the Waldorf.

In what was quite an oration, Hoffa disclosed that the Teamsters' Brotherhood would be 2 million strong by its next convention — June 1966.

He revealed that the brotherhood now actually had more than 1.75 million.

His audience, and the fact that he would make one of his rare New York trips to address it, were indications that Hoffa's new drives would be in the civil service field where the potential is in the millions.

Those who heard Hoffa that evening of June 25 in the Waldorf ballroom were members of Local 237, made up of more than 17,000 New York City employes.

THEIR LEADER, William Lewis, son of a Negro slave, now is attempting to unionize several city departments.

Most of the membership is Negro and Puerto Rican, and Hoffa told the diners that they make up the fifth largest Teamsters' affiliate in the land. If Lewis succeeds in his new campaign, it will be the largest local in the brotherhood. At the moment it seems likely that the local will add another 15,000 members next September, when the Department of Hospitals Nurses' Aides and Institutional Aides take a vote on affiliation.

If the hospital workers vote to join the Teamsters, the local will have a total of 32,000 members — and still have a huge field before it.

Those at the banquet, an annual affair run to raise money to send underpriviledged youngsters to summer camps, heard Hoffa hurl pledges of support for the civil service unionization campaign. His speech was so fiery there'd have been spontaneous combustion were it not for the cooling system.

OBVIOUSLY Hoffa liked what he saw and heard — and the vistas of hundreds of cities and vast potential memberships stretched out before him.

He talked of organizational strategy and next year's convention as though there were not the slightest chance of being in prison long before the 1966 conclave, as the result of two federal convictions.

At the pre-dinner reception he was ebullient, gay and bouncy—and all without ever touching a drink. He made the rounds. He posed for pictures with every shop steward available. He disdained those who by-passed the rank and file for more glamorous pursuits here and abroad.

Though he refers to himself as "Hoffa", the chunky little chap was "Jimmy" to everybody. If there ever was any doubt that the so-called anti-Hoffa revolt of 18 months ago was smashed, evenings such as the one at the Waldorf wiped them out.

THESE CHEERS, the eagerness to shake his hand, the shouldering to get through to him at scores of such banquets proves that he will be unanimously re-elected at the '66 convention.

He showed no tension, though the decision of the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati is about due, since the case was argued some six months ago.

Those who heard him assail the Supreme Court for its decision to put unions, in some instances, under the anti-trust laws, those who heard him call for a fight to prevent this ruling from "shackling" the labor movement, those who listened as he talked of new campaigns, got the impression that Hoffa just did not believe this court or any other would send him to prison for eight years.

There is no rust on his steel nerves.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The First National Bank here was named trustee for the 125-acre farm in Center Township, near Lisbon, which was acquired as a camp site by the Columbiana County Council of Boy Scouts.

Mrs. Sadie Schneider was installed as councilor of All-American Council No. 287, Daughters of America.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Patrolman Jack Graham was elected a delegate to the Ohio state convention of police officers in Columbus.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Dutterer on Oak St., became a gathering place for neighbors when two blooms came out on a night-blooming Cerus, a plant whose bloom lasts only a few hours, then wilts, dies and drops off.

Several tons of brick coping fell from the Ray Birch building at Walnut and E. 6th St., covering a section of the Walnut St. sidewalk with shattered brick.

TEN YEARS AGO — Sgt. Clarence J. Beadnell of Woodbine Ave. received his discharge from the Marine Corps at New River, N. C.

Construction of nine new homes accounted for all but $2,750 of the $57,250 in new work authorized during June by Mayor E. Allan McKeever's office.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

This is to convey a special thanks on behalf of the board and members of the Greek Trinity Orthodox Church in Steubenville for the excellent police escort provided in East Liverpool June 27.

The police escort met the 250 some members at Westgate School, taking them directly to Thompson Park.

This simplified the entire operation. And not only do all concerned wish to express how grateful they were — and are— to discover such fine inter-city relations, but also for the use of the facilities of your lovely park.

We thank all members of the police force and all who helped make this annual picnic a success.

(The above letter is signed by Christ Pallis, Spiros Pappas and Michael Vittalis.)

"The nation awaits our decision, gentlemen . . . Do we develop faster missiles or do we get snappier nicknames for the ones we have?"

Odd Facts

The freezing compartment of a refrigerator is usually placed on the top because warm air rises and cold air is heavier. As air is cooled, it goes toward the bottom, warm air rising. That creates a more uniform temperature in the refrigerator than if the cold - producing unit were at the bottom.

Although pure water freezes at 32 degrees Fahrenheit, there is no limit as to how "cold" ice can become. For example, ice cubes left out in an open container do not cool your drinks very well, for the reason that they have become "warm." Fresh ice cubes do a much faster cooling job.

The Court's Opinions

By David Lawrence

Another Analysis Of The High Tribunal

The average man doesn't read the texts of the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States because of a feeling that they might be too technical to understand. But nowadays even many lawyers are bewildered as they try to find out what are the legal reasons employed by the high court in holding federal or state laws unconstitutional.

David Lawrence

This correspondent has been reading Supreme Court decisions for many years and, along with other observers, has often criticized the arbitrary rulings which appear to have no sanction in the Constitution. All of a sudden, the Supreme Court itself has apparently recognized the widespread criticism of its judicial dialogues.

The main point of the criticisms of the Supreme Court voiced in recent years is that a judicial oligarchy has emerged which, in effect, seems to supersede Congress and the state legislatures.

Disavowals of such a purpose now are contained in the opinions explaining a decision on June 7 which invalidated a law of the State of Connecticut prohibiting the use of or the giving of advice on the use of birth-control devices.

THE JUSTICES agreed that it was a bad law but couldn't agree on the exact basis for finding it unconstitutional. Here are some excerpts from the various opinions in that case:

Justice Douglas in delivering the opinion of the court:

"We do not sit as a super-legislature to determine the wisdom, need, and propriety of laws that touch economic problems, business affairs, or social conditions."

Justice Harlan, concurring in the ruling:

"While I could not more heartily agree that judicial 'self restraint' is an indispensable ingredient of sound constitutional adjudication, I do submit that the formula suggested for achieving it is more hollow than real. 'Specific' provisions of the Constitution, no less than 'due process,' lend themselves as readily to 'personal' interpretations by judges whose constitutional outlook is simply to keep the Constitution in supposed 'tune with the times.' Need one go further than to call up last term's reappoirtionment cases . . . where a majority of the court 'interpreted' 'by the people' (Article 1, Section 2) and 'equal protection' (14th Amendment) to command 'one person, one vote,' an interpretation that was made in the face of irrefutable and still unanswered history to the contrary."

JUSTICE GOLDBERG, with whom Chief Justice Warren and Justice Brennan joined in concurring:

"In a long series of cases this court has held that where fundamental personal liberties are involved, they may not be abridged by the states simply on a showing that a regulatory statute has some rational relationship to the effectuation of a proper state purpose."

Justice Black, with whom Justice Stewart joined in dissenting:

"While I completely subscribe to the holding of Marbury V. Madison, and subsequent cases, that our court has constitutional power to strike down statutes, state or federal, that violate commands of the fedral Constitution, I do not believe that we are granted power by the due process clause or any other constitutional provision or provisions to measure constitutionality by our belief that legislation is arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable, or accomplishes no justifiable purpose, or is offensive to our own notions of 'civilized standards of conduct.'"

"Such an appraisal of the wisdom of legislation is an attribute of the power to make laws, not of the power to interpret them. The use by federal courts of such a formula or doctrine or whatnot to invalidate state laws simply takes away from Congress and states the power to make laws based on their own judgment of fairness and wisdom and transfers that power to this court for ultimate determination. . . .

"SUBJECTING federal and state laws to such an unrestrained and unrestrainable judicial control as to the wisdom of legislative enaciments would, I fear, jeopardize the separation of governmental powers that the framers set up and at the same time threaten to take away much of the power of states to govern themselves which the Constitution plainly intended them to have."

After reading the foregoing excerpts, one wonders where the Supreme Court ever got the authority to enter the field of education and to order the states to disregard their laws and desegrate public schools.

The objective was, of course, right, but, as happened in the Connecticut case, the ruling was based on what may be considered wrong concepts of constitutionality.

As for future cases arising under the Civil Rights Act of 1964, there is room for considerable speculation as to how the Supreme Court will ever reconcile any affirmation of the validity of that law with the sagacious expressions just set forth concerning the inherent right of the people and of the states to retain their individual liberty against the usurpation of powers by a "super-legislature."

Criticism Of Johnson

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

As President Johnson heads into the last half of 1965 his record can also be split in half: very successful at home; a lot of unfinished, dangling overseas business that leaves the world wondering.

His popularity at home is high, the polls say. Overseas he has been criticized for his handling of foreign affairs, particularly in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

He hasn't shown yet the same masterful talent for foreign affairs that he has demonstrated repeatedly in domestic problems.

His relations with Congress, business, labor, and civil rights groups have been excellent and tranquil. In getting Congress to do what he wants he is well on the way to the best record since President Franklin D. Roosevelt's early days.

HE TALKS A LOT, some moralizing, some times in platitudes and some times in a way unmatched by any president, as in a recent speech expressing his compassion (a favorite word of his) for the Negro.

The astonishing energy he has shown in working at his job always has raised the inevitable question: How long can he keep it up?

There is a broad mystification about what to expect in foreign policy where Johnson plays the cards very close. For example: In six months how much deeper might the United States be in the Vietnamese war?

When he went to San Francisco last week to address the 20th anniversary meeting of the United Nations he got a lukewarm reception although the reason is not clear.

PRESIDENT John F. Kennedy, at his death but not in his first few months as chief executive, had a far more shining image abroad than Johnson. But this was after he got off to a bad start by backing the Cuban refugees' disastrous invasion of Cuba.

Yet, Kennedy's policy basically was not much different from Johnson's — except for the bombing of North Viet Nam.

Johnson has been criticized for intervening in the Dominican revolt, a reminder to Latin Americans of the many times this country intervened in their affairs before. They couldn't tell whether they were looking at the beginning of a similar era under Johnson.

But Kennedy got an even worse reaction for the Cuban invasion.

Kennedy had slowly been building up American forces in Viet Nam. It's useless to try to guess now what he would have done eventually if confronted with the situation Johnson faced: Growing conquest by the Viet Cong and steadily developing chaos in South Viet Nam which, without American help, would have collapsed long ago.

There have been scattered, but comparatively few, critical voices against Johnson in Congress. Will this last?

Though he refers to himself as "Hoffa", the chunky little chap was "Jimmy" to everybody. If there ever was any doubt that the so-called anti-Hoffa revolt of 18 months ago was smashed, evenings such as the one at the Waldorf wiped them out.

THESE CHEERS, the eagerness to shake his hand, the shouldering to get through to him at scores of such banquets proves that he will be unanimously re-elected at the '66 convention.

He showed no tension, though the decision of the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati is about due, since the case was argued some six months ago.

Those who heard him assail the Supreme Court for its decision to put unions, in some instances, under the anti-trust laws, those who heard him call for a fight to prevent this ruling from "shackling" the labor movement, those who listened as he talked of new campaigns, got the impression that Hoffa just did not believe this court or any other would send him to prison for eight years.

There is no rust on his steel nerves.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The First National Bank here was named trustee for the 125-acre farm in Center Township, near Lisbon, which was acquired as a camp site by the Columbiana County Council of Boy Scouts.

Mrs. Sadie Schneider was installed as councilor of All-American Council No. 287, Daughters of America.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Patrolman Jack Graham was elected a delegate to the Ohio state convention of police officers in Columbus.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Dutterer on Oak St., became a gathering place for neighbors when two blooms came out on a night-blooming Cerus, a plant whose bloom lasts only a few hours, then wilts, dies and drops off.

Several tons of brick coping fell from the Ray Birch building at Walnut and E. 6th St., covering a section of the Walnut St. sidewalk with shattered brick.

TEN YEARS AGO — Sgt. Clarence J. Beadnell of Woodbine Ave. received his discharge from the Marine Corps at New River, N. C.

Construction of nine new homes accounted for all but $2,750 of the $57,250 in new work authorized during June by Mayor E. Allan McKeever's office.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

This is to convey a special thanks on behalf of the board and members of the Greek Trinity Orthodox Church in Steubenville for the excellent police escort provided in East Liverpool June 27.

The police escort met the 250 some members at Westgate School, taking them directly to Thompson Park.

This simplified the entire operation. And not only do all concerned wish to express how grateful they were — and are—to discover such fine inter-city relations, but also for the use of the facilities of your lovely park.

We thank all members of the police force and all who helped make this annual picnic a success.

(The above letter is signed by Christ Pallis, Spiros Pappas and Michael Vittalis.)

GRIN AND BEAR IT By George Lichty

"The nation awaits our decision, gentlemen . . . Do we develop faster missiles or do we get snappier nicknames for the ones we have?"

Odd Facts

The freezing compartment of a refrigerator is usually placed on the top because warm air rises and cold air is heavier. As air is cooled, it goes toward the bottom, warm air rising. That creates a more uniform temperature in the refrigerator than if the cold - producing unit were at the bottom.

Although pure water freezes at 32 degrees Fahrenheit, there is no limit as to how "cold" ice can become. For example, ice cubes left out in an open container do not cool your drinks very well, for the reason that they have become "warm." Fresh ice cubes do a much faster cooling job.

The Court's Opinions

By David Lawrence

Another Analysis Of The High Tribunal

The average man doesn't read the texts of the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States because of a feeling that they might be too technical to understand. But nowadays even many lawyers are bewildered as they try to find out what are the legal reasons employed by the high court in holding federal or state laws unconstitutional.

David Lawrence

This correspondent has been reading Supreme Court decisions for many years and, along with other observers, has often criticized the arbitrary rulings which appear to have no sanction in the Constitution. All of a sudden, the Supreme Court itself has apparently recognized the widespread criticism of its judicial dialogues.

The main point of the criticisms of the Supreme Court voiced in recent years is that a judicial oligarchy has emerged which, in effect, seems to supersede Congress and the state legislatures.

Disavowals of such a purpose now are contained in the opinions explaining a decision on June 7 which invalidated a law of the State of Connecticut prohibiting the use of or the giving of advice on the use of birth-control devices.

THE JUSTICES agreed that it was a bad law but couldn't agree on the exact basis for finding it unconstitutional. Here are some excerpts from the various opinions in that case:

Justice Douglas in delivering the opinion of the court:

"We do not sit as a super-legislature to determine the wisdom, need, and propriety of laws that touch economic problems, business affairs, or social conditions."

Justice Harlan, concurring in the ruling:

"While I could not more heartily agree that judicial 'self restraint' is an indispensable ingredient of sound constitutional adjudication, I do submit that the formula suggested for achieving it is more hollow than real. 'Specific' provisions of the Constitution, no less than 'due process,' lend themselves as readily to 'personal' interpretations by judges whose constitutional outlook is simply to keep the Constitution in supposed 'tune with the times.' Need one go further than to call up last term's reappoirtionment cases . . . where a majority of the court 'interpreted' 'by the people' (Article 1, Section 2) and 'equal protection' (14th Amendment) to command 'one person, one vote,' an interpretation that was made in the face of irrefutable and still unanswered history to the contrary."

JUSTICE GOLDBERG, with whom Chief Justice Warren and Justice Brennan joined in concurring:

"In a long series of cases this court has held that where fundamental personal liberties are involved, they may not be abridged by the states simply on a showing that a regulatory statute has some rational relationship to the effectuation of a proper state purpose."

Justice Black, with whom Justice Stewart joined in dissenting:

"While I completely subscribe to the holding of Marbury V. Madison, and subsequent cases, that our court has constitutional power to strike down statutes, state or federal, that violate commands of the fedral Constitution, I do not believe that we are granted power by the due process clause or any other constitutional provision or provisions to measure constitutionality by our belief that legislation is arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable, or accomplishes no justifiable purpose, or is offensive to our own notions of 'civilized standards of conduct.'"

"Such an appraisal of the wisdom of legislation is an attribute of the power to make laws, not of the power to interpret them. The use by federal courts of such a formula or doctrine or whatnot to invalidate state laws simply takes away from Congress and states the power to make laws based on their own judgment of fairness and wisdom and transfers that power to this court for ultimate determination. . . .

"SUBJECTING federal and state laws to such an unrestrained and unrestrainable judicial control as to the wisdom of legislative enactments would, I fear, jeopardize the separation of governmental powers that the framers set up and at the same time threaten to take away much of the power of states to govern themselves which the Constitution plainly intended them to have."

After reading the foregoing excerpts, one wonders where the Supreme Court ever got the authority to enter the field of education and to order the states to disregard their laws and desegrate public schools.

The objective was, of course, right, but, as happened in the Connecticut case, the ruling was based on what may be considered wrong concepts of constitutionality.

As for future cases arising under the Civil Rights Act of 1964, there is room for considerable speculation as to how the Supreme Court will ever reconcile any affirmation of the validity of that law with the sagacious expressions just set forth concerning the inherent right of the people and of the states to retain their individual liberty against the usurpation of powers by a "super-legislature."

Criticism Of Johnson

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

As President Johnson heads into the last half of 1965 his record can also be split in half: very successful at home; a lot of unfinished, dangling overseas business that leaves the world wondering.

His popularity at home is high, the polls say. Overseas he has been criticized for his handling of foreign affairs, particularly in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

He hasn't shown yet the same masterful talent for foreign affairs that he has demonstrated repeatedly in domestic problems.

His relations with Congress, business, labor, and civil rights groups have been excellent and tranquil. In getting Congress to do what he wants he is well on the way to the best record since President Franklin D. Roosevelt's early days.

HE TALKS A LOT, some moralizing, some times in platitudes and some times in a way unmatched by any president, as in a recent speech expressing his compassion (a favorite word of his) for the Negro.

The astonishing energy he has shown in working at his job always has raised the inevitable question: How long can he keep it up?

There is a broad mystification about what to expect in foreign policy where Johnson plays the cards very close. For example: In six months how much deeper might the United States be in the Vietnamese war?

When he went to San Francisco last week to address the 20th anniversary meeting of the United Nations he got a lukewarm reception although the reason is not clear.

PRESIDENT John F. Kennedy, at his death but not in his first few months as chief executive, had a far more shining image abroad than Johnson. But this was after he got off to a bad start by backing the Cuban refugees' disastrous invasion of Cuba.

Yet, Kennedy's policy basically was not much different from Johnson's — except for the bombing of North Viet Nam.

Johnson has been criticized for intervening in the Dominican revolt, a reminder to Latin Americans of the many times this country intervened in their affairs before. They couldn't tell whether they were looking at the beginning of a similar era under Johnson.

But Kennedy got an even worse reaction for the Cuban invasion.

Kennedy had slowly been building up American forces in Viet Nam. It's useless to try to guess now what he would have done eventually if confronted with the situation Johnson faced: Growing conquest by the Viet Cong and steadily developing chaos in South Viet Nam which, without American help, would have collapsed long ago.

There have been scattered, but comparatively few, critical voices against Johnson in Congress. Will this last?

Man Likes Johnson, Voted For Him Twice

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police said Edward L. Williams, 40, accused of casting two ballots in the last presidential election, told arresting officers:

"I voted twice for President Johnson because I liked him and his policies."

Officers said that Williams, a restaurant maintenance man, told them Wednesday when he was arrested that he thought it would be all right to vote twice because he had skipped some previous elections in which he didn't like any candidate.

Although the bagpipe is generally considered the national musical instrument of Scotland, it did not originate in that country. It is a very old instrument and there are records of its having been used in ancient Egypt and Persia.

of his term, Spensky was paroled in 1950, but was sentenced rt Lisbon to 1-3 years for carrying a concealed weapon. He was returned to Western Penitentiary to complete his original sentence and was again released in 1960.

However, he was arrested in Steubenville in 1961 for burglary and broke out of the old Jefferson County jail in March that year and out of the new jail in August.

Spensky was originally arrested in Wellsville April 6, 1953, and charged with possession of burglary tools and carrying a concealed weapon. He was convicted on the latter charge and sent to the Ohio State Penitentiary.

Baker

1957 while Johnson was Senate majority leader and Baker was his right-hand man, and the second after Johnson had become vice president.

Reynolds swore that after the first sale he had been pressured by Walter Jenkins, Johnson's longtime top aide, into buying $1,208 worth of advertising time on the Austin, Tex., television station controlled by the Johnson family.

Jenkins resigned at the President's request last October after disclosure that Jenkins had been arrested twice on morals charges. On advice of psychiatrists the Rules Committee excused him from testifying but he answered written questions and denied pressuring Reynolds to buy the advertising time.

One of the sidelights of the report was a Justice Department document, printed as an appendix, which said Ellen Rometsch, a West German beauty who figured in the Baker case, admitted being a call girl. She had lived in the Washington area while her soldier husband was attached to the embassy of West Germany.

It said Mrs. Rometsch, who has since gone back to Germany, admitted knowing Baker but denied any intimacies with him "or with any government officials including congressmen, Cabinet members, or persons connected with the White House."

The Justice Department summary also listed other admitted prostitutes who claimed associations with Washington officials. It disguised their identities as "Mrs. A", "Mrs. B", "Miss C" and so on.

"Mrs. A admitted to having sexual intercourse with persons in the executive, legislative and judicial branches of government but declined to identify the individuals involved," the summary said. "She said she did not want her husband to know of her past prostitution activities."

A letter from Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach suggested that publication of the entire file on Mrs. Rometsch "would serve to destroy the reputation of several individuals on the basis of allegations which may be false or which are wholly unrelated to the subject matter of the committee's inquiry."

Baker

1957 while Johnson was Senate majority leader and Baker was his right-hand man, and the second after Johnson had become vice president.

Reynolds swore that after the first sale he had been pressured by Walter Jenkins, Johnson's longtime top aide, into buying $1,208 worth of advertising time on the Austin, Tex., television station controlled by the Johnson family.

Jenkins resigned at the President's request last October after disclosure that Jenkins had been arrested twice on morals charges. On advice of psychiatrists the Rules Committee excused him from testifying but he answered written questions and denied pressuring Reynolds to buy the advertising time.

"Mrs. A admitted to having sexual intercourse with persons in the executive, legislative and judicial branches of government but declined to identify the individuals involved," the summary said. "She said she did not want her husband to know of her past prostitution activities."

Court Backs Pennsylvania School Move

HARRISBURG — The constitutionality of Pennsylvania's 1963 School Reorganization Act, ordering consolidation of smaller districts by July 1966, has been upheld by the State Supreme Court.

The seven justices issued a unanimous ruling Wednesday rejecting appeals from school districts in Philadelphia's suburbs and from western Pennsylvania which sought to void the act on grounds it was a special law and illegal.

The act consolidates districts with less than 4,000 pupils in the 1961-62 school year.

The justices said the act is properly designed to reduce the number of districts in the commonwealth so as to provide a better education for all children, and is not an unlawful delegation of power by the legislature.

The ruling went on, "The legislative objective embodied in the act is the prompt and expeditious reorganization of the public school system in order to accomplish fewer and larger administrative districts."

(Victor Thomas, supervising principal of the Southern Beaver County Schools at Hookstown, which are opposing a merger with the Hopewell - Independence - Raccoon School District, said that the Southern Beaver Board is not questioning the legality of the reorganization act, but merely wishes to remain as a separate unit.

He said the board still is attempting legal action to remain separate and that the case is to be presented to the Dauphin County Court this week.)

Senator Keeps Active

Robert Kennedy Tackles River Jaunt With Family

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy takes physical fitness in stride. He has no formula and no advice to the lazy.

"I don't do any pushups or anything like that," the New York Democrat said in a quickie interview.

He simply skis, swims, climbs a mountain, hikes, sails, skin dives, plays baseball, ice skates and throws a mean football around.

He's off Friday to shoot some rapids on the Yampa and Green Rivers in Colorado and Utah, taking his wife and at least five of their nine children. It's a typical vacation for Kennedy.

He is seldom not doing something.

When Kennedy was attorney general and Associate Supreme Court Justice Byron R. White was his deputy, Kennedy kept a football on the mantel in his office. The two — White was an all-American in college — tossed the ball back and forth at times while trying to unsnarl legal problems.

The Kennedy family touch football games became famous when John F. Kennedy became president. All the brothers, sisters, in-laws and sometimes children joined in.

An outsider who played on Robert Kennedy's team described him as an aggressive player and a "chatterman," all the time talking his side to better efforts.

Kennedy, though slight for a football player, made the varsity football team when he was a Harvard student.

Now 39, he is 5 feet 10 and weighs 165.

He had never climbed a mountain. But the Canadian government named a peak in honor of his late brother, the president. Last March Sen. Kennedy climbed that mountain, up near the Alaskan border.

"He was tougher than we thought; he's a pretty rugged fellow," one of the veteran climbers said of Kennedy.

When John F. Kennedy was president, Robert Kennedy joined the craze for 50-mile hikes. He set out early one cold February morning in 1963 and walked 50 miles in 17 hours.

Kennedy includes his wife Ethel and their children in the games and sports. They went camping out in Oregon a few years ago. This weekend they'll be riding in huge rubber rafts down the Yampa and Green Rivers.

And there was the time last December in New York when skaters at Rockefeller Center spotted seven Kennedys — father, mother and five of the children — out on the skating rink.

State Grants Pay Hikes In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG — Pay boosts for some 75,000 Pennsylvania state employes, totaling over $19 million, go into effect with the start of the fiscal year today.

Gov. William Scranton Wednesday signed into law pay increases for 50,000 employes supported by the General Fund, the boosts amounting to $10.7 million, or an average of 10 per cent.

Salary increases amounting to $117,000 are slated for the next governor and lieutenant governor along with top executive officials and cabinet members.

The General Assembly was expected today to approve pay increases for House and Senate members, amounting to $1,200, bringing take - home pay to $12,000 annually. Expense allowances would also be boosted by $1,800.

The 11,000 highway department workers are not included in the wage boosts, having received a 5 per cent hike last December.

Other wage increases are planned for employes of the Interior Department, Treasury, General Assembly and other workers.

Youth Convicted In Store Slaying Faces Execution

CINCINNATI (AP)— Lee Arthur Henley, who won $5 in a bet that he would "get the chair," was convicted Wednesday of first degree murder with no recommendation for mercy.

The verdict by the Common Pleas Court jury means the 20-year-old Henley faces death in Ohio's electric chair.

Henley was found guilty of killing Peter Mazes, 31, assistant manager of the King Kwik Market, in a dispute over the purchase of six per cent beer June 27, 1964.

Stanley Heber, court bailiff, said Henley had bet five other prisoners, who said the youth would not get the chair. Heber said Henley told him after the jury's verdict that he had won $5.

The jury took one hour and 24 minutes before reporting its decision— a record time for deliberations in a first degree murder trial here. The trial lasted 13 days.

Mazes was shot after he refused to sell Henley the high-powered beer. Mazes ejected Henley from the store, and testimony in the tiral showed the youth returned with a pistol and shot Mazes in the back after a chase throughout the store.

Girl, 15, Hurt In Car Crash

A 15-year-old girl was injured slightly late Wednesday afternoon when an auto she was driving struck a parked car as she rounded a turn, police reported.

Miss Mary Jane Cunningham, 114 E. 2nd St., suffered bruised knees in the mishap at 4:39 p.m. on W. 2nd St. 20 feet east of Jackson St., but said she did not require medical attention, officers reported.

Police said her 1958 sedan hit a parked 1956 sedan owned by Carlton D. Davis, 146 W. 2nd St. There was extensive damage to the front end of the girl's car. The left rear fender, trunk lid and bumper were damaged on the Davis auto, police said.

The girl reported she was traveling north on Jackson St. and turning east onto W. 2nd St. when her auto hit the rear of the Davis car. She was cited to Juvenile Court on charges of driving without an operator's permit and failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Two cars were damaged in a collision Wednesday at 7 p. m. on Martin St. at Globe St., officers reported.

The mishap involved a 1955 four - door sedan driven by Constance Savina, 18, of 1233 Erie St. and a parked 1957 two-door sedan owned by Norman Stillwell of Rogers R.D. 1, police said.

The girl said she was traveling north on Martin St. when an oncoming car forced her to the right and caused her auto to hit the parked vehicle.

The collision damaged the right front of both autos, police said.

Algerians Close Cuba News Office

ALGIERS (AP)—The military regime of Col. Houari Boumedienne has ordered Prensa Latina, the Cuban news agency, to close its Algiers office because it distributed a speech by Fidel Castro attacking the new government.

A police search of the agency's office uncovered "clear proof" that Prensa Latina had printed anti-Boumedienne tracts, the announcement said.

It accused Prensa Latina of "subversion ... and a hostile and irresponsible attitude toward the Algerian revolution."

There was no immediate indication whether Cuban newsmen would be expelled.

Castro, in his speech in Havana, had accused Boumedienne and his associates of betraying Algeria's "socialist revolution."

Boumedienne, in a speech Wednesday, referred indirectly to Castro's speech. He said Algeria has no need for advice from abroad on how to put socialism into practice.

Agents Nab Boys Radioing False Distress Reports

So the Coast Guard called for help from the Federal Communications Commission.

Tuesday, a message from the "USS Honolulu," reported a capsized sailboat near the Chesapeake Bay bridge.

FCC agents pinpointed the source of the radio transmitter, rushed to the scene, and caught the two boys leaving a docked yacht.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Child's Self-Pity Can Be Conquered

Some children who win average or excelling grades in the elementary school may not do as well in high school. Their parents may have kept after these youngsters so constantly and so often helped them do what they could do themsleves, that they have grown over dependent. Then in high school, where it's not so easy for the parent to check on the children's schoolwork or to help them with it, these students may wane in self-drive and responsibility.

Dr. Garry Myers

Even some students earning outstanding grades in high school have had constant supervision and help by their parents.

On entering college, they may lag or even drop out before graduation. You may know of such sad cases among your acquaintances.

Just how much a parent should keep after the child at school, seeing that he does every assignment of homework day after day, is not easy to ascertain. It's desirable, of course, that he does all such work faithfully; that he acquires good and faithful habits of mental work.

—:—

BUT A constant problem is how to cultivate in him such responsibility.

As a rule, the parent is most concerned about each item and step in his school work. She trusts to reminding him, time after time, in many situations daily. These reminders may help only for each immediate item of his work. A mother from Illinois writes of her son, ten years old:

"In school the teacher said his behavior is fine, but with the work she must constantly remind him. 'Is the subject complete, etc.?' It is much the same at home, not only with school work but with home chores. We must remind him—'Have you done this or done that?' So long as we do this his grades are good, but as soon as we let down he tries to get by on stalling."

My reply in part:

YOU can't hope to change your boy's ways at school just by exhorting and talking to him about them. You should be able to help him improve his ways at home, with the hope they would carry over in the future to school.

Begin with his chores. Assign just a few to be done at a regular time each day, chores he is able to do well. They are easy for you to check. Just once, tell him clearly what they are and when they must be begun and completed. Don't let yourself remind him or ask him if he has completed any chore. You can easily see for yourself.

Set a penalty other than jawing for each dereliction you can enforce. A good one is for him to have to sit unamused, doing nothing, for thirty minutes, where you can see him. Use no more words than necessary to assign the penalty. Otherwise keep your lips sealed and your insides still.

Should he leave the restraining place too soon, he must know he would be paddled soundly. Don't tell him so, just do it. By now he should know that your word is good. Be decisive and consistent.

—:—

AFTER you have your child trained to take responsibility for these few chores, you should be able to require him to go at his homework faithfully. Be ready to help him when he really needs help.

But aim to make him responsible for doing his assignments promptly and well. Quit reminding and telling him what to do next and next. Depend on what you can see with your own eyes.

My bulletins, "Parents and the Child's Homework," and "Educating Your Child in Responsibility," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

31-Year-Old Rookie Helps Dodgers To Split With Cubs

Indians Nipped, 2-1; Twins Stopped On 2 Hits

Cards Halt Win Streak Of Law At 8

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It took Don LeJohn 12 seasons to make the big time. He's acting as if he means to stay.

The 31-year-old third baseman became the Los Angeles Dodgers' newest rookie Wednesday and promtly sparked the National League leaders to a victory.

LeJohn smacked a run-scoring single in his very first major league at-bat, then singled again in his second trip and scored the clinching run as the Dodgers nipped the Chicago Cubs 4-3 for a split of their doubleheader. Chicago took the opener 4-1 with four runs in the seventh inning.

LeJohn, a player-coach for Albuquerque in the Texas League with a .391 batting average when he was called up, had been in the Dodgers' farm chain since 1954. He had about given up hope of the majors.

The split put the Dodgers two full games ahead of the Cincinnati Reds, who got whipped by the New York Mets 6-3. Elsewhere in the NL — Jim Wynn's triple and steal of home in the eighth inning led Houston over San Francisco 6-4; Philadelphia won its fourth straight, 3-2 over Milwaukee; and St. Louis clouted Pittsburgh 7-1, ending Vern Law's winning streak at eight straight.

The Mets beat the Reds on the hitting of Ed Kranepool, Roy McMillan and Chuck Hiller, plus the stout relief pitching of Gary Kroll. Kranepool homered, doubled and had a sacrifice fly for three runs-batted-in, while McMillan and Hiller collected three hits each and accounted for the three other Met RBI's.

The Giants rallied for three runs and a 4-4 tie in the top of the eighth at Houston, but the Astros came back in their half of the inning. Bob Aspromonte started it with an infield hit off Frank Linzy, then Wynn tripled him home and scored himself on the steal.

Tony Taylor collected the Phillies' decisive hit, a single in the seventh that brought in Bobby Wine with the tie-breaking run. Losing pitcher Wade Blasingame homered in the top of the seventh, giving the Braves a temporary 2-2 deadlock.

The victory pushed the Phils into the first division for the first time since May 18. They're fourth, just one percentage point under Milwaukee.

Law, who had won his eighth in a row after losing his first five, gave up only four hits to the Cardinals in his eight innings. But they touched him for two runs in the fifth and made it a rout with five more in the ninth off Al McBean and Frank Carpin.

BEAVER COUNTY NIGHT was observed at Forbes Field Wednesday night as Hal Woodeshik, left, and Tito Francona, both products of the Beaver County American Legion Junior Baseball received awards prior to the Pirate-St. Louis game. Presenting the awards were John Ward, Beaver County American Legion commander and George Mrvosh, extreme right, director of Beaver County Legion baseball. Woodshik a pitcher for the Cards is from Monaca and Francona, a first baseman-outfielder, hails from New Brighton. (UPI Telephoto)

If Jim Bouton has been having fun until now, he may go into ecstasy the rest of the season.

That is, if his latest outing is any indication of what is to come.

Bouton, right-handed ace of the New York Yankees' pitching staff the past two years, ended nearly two months of puzzling frustration Wednesday night as the Yankees edged Baltimore 5-4.

The victory was the first since May 8 for Bouton, who said before the season started:

"I'd like to win 20. I would have won 20 last year if I hadn't reported late. I wasn't ready when the season started. I know I'll be ready this year. It's going to be a lot more fun."

But something happened to the 26-year-old hurler after he brought his record to 3-2 May 3. He lost five straight before beating the Orioles, and even then he needed late-inning relief help from Steve Hamilton and Pedro Ramos.

Bouton now has a 4-7 record with a 5.06 earned run average. He has completed only two of 16 starts.

In other American League games Washington nipped Cleveland 2-1, Kansas City swept a doubleheader from Chicago 2-1 and 4-3, and Los Angeles whipped Minnesota 5-0. Rain washed out Detroit and Boston.

Cleveland's Sam McDowell allowed six hits and struck out 11, but the Senators still handed the Indians only their third loss in the last 19 games. Washington broke a 1-1 deadlock in the second inning on Ken Hamlin's sacrifice fly with the bases loaded.

The Athletics gained their first decision over Chicago's Gary Peters after 10 defeats in the first game. They got to Peters for two runs in the first, Ed Charles driving in the first with a sacrifice fly and Mike Hershberger the second with a single.

Kansas City won the nightcap in the ninth inning when Johnny Buzhardt hit Bert Campaneris with a pitch with the bases loaded. The Athletics tied it in the seventh as Larry Stahl cracked a two-run homer off Bruce Howard.

Fred Newman set down Minnesota on two singles as the Angels ended their losing streak at five. Bob Rodgers and Bobby Knoop each knocked in two runs.

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Rampaging Michel Jazy of France, breaking world records at a fantastic clip, may go after his second gold medal in as many days in the World Games today.

Jazy, who broke two European records in winning the 5,000-meter run Wednesday, is tentatively scheduled to go in the 1,500 meters today against a field that includes Jim Grelle and Dyrol Burleson of Oregon.

The 29-year-old Frenchman finished the 5,000 meters in 13:27.6, breaking his own pending European mark and beating Australia's Ron Clarke, the world record holder at the distance, and two American Olympic gold medal winners.

Clarke, who has the pending world mark of 13:25.8, finished third behind Kenya's Keine Kipchonge. U.S. Marine Billy Mills of Oceanside, Calif., the Olympic 10,000-meter champion, was eighth and Bob Schul of West Milton, Ohio, the 5,000-meter Olympic winner, was 10th.

En route, Jazy also broke his own European mark for three miles, hitting that distance in 13:04.8.

Miss Moffitt Is Last U.S. Singles Hope

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., relaxed before today's women's singles semifinals in the Wimbledon Championships and said:

"The fact that I'm the last American in the Wimbledon singles will help me tremendously mentally."

Billie Jean plays defending champion Mario Bueno of Brazil and Margaret Smith of Australia tackles Christine Truman, the darling of the British fans, in the other semifinal.

Dennis Ralston, 22-year-old from Bakersfield, Calif., was eliminated in the men's singles semifinals Wednesday, losing 6-1, 6-2, 7-9, 6-1 to defending champion Roy Emerson of Australia.

In the other men's singles semifinal match, Fred Stolle of Australia defeated Cliff Drysdale of South Africa 6-3, 6-3, 7-5.

So for the third straight year Stolle is in finals. He's lost twice — once to Chuck McKinley of Port Washington, N.Y., and last year to Emerson.

Bille Jean, ranked No. 2 in the United States, and seeded fifth for Wimbledon, talked about her previous tussles with Miss Bueno and said:

"She's got a slight edge on me. But we're players of similar style. She's more graceful. But I like playing her. I think I play better against her than many other players."

Oil from the jaws of a porpoise was at one time considered the "ideal lubricant" for the finest of watches.

Shroades' Slam Paces Post 374 To 14-2 Win

A grand slam home run by Shroades led Post 374 out of its batting slump into a 14-2 victory over Hanoverton in a County Legion League battle Wednesday at Hanoverton.

Shroades collected two other hits and showed five RBI's for the evening. Two other home runs came off the bats of Larry Ensinger and Bill Wright.

While his teammates were collecting 11 hits, Jack Myler gave up only three singles in pitching the victory.

Rick Engle, the losing pitcher, fanned 13 batters but gave up 10 walks. Randy Engle had two of his team's three hits.

Chamberlain May Go Into Boxing Game

NEW YORK (AP) — Can you imagine big Wilt Chamberlain the 7-foot-1 pro basketball star, as a heavyweight fighter?

Maybe it isn't as fantastic as it sounds. Chamberlain isn't as frail as he appears at first glance. He is a 28-year-old, sturdy 250-pounder who has held his own in many a rumpus in National Basketball Association games.

Chamberlain said Wednesday he "definitely is contemplating" switching from sinking a basket to socking an opponent. "I've had several offers, but I haven't made up my mind. I'll make my decision when I'm ready. That could be anytime."

Turkey Season Set For Ohio Hunters

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio hunters have almost a year to unlimber the old shotgun and practice their turkey calls for the state's first wild turkey season in more than 60 years.

A wild turkey hunt need no longer be a gleam in grandpa's eye according to Jack Kamman, chief of the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Next year hunters can bag one turkey from May 4-7 in Adams, Athens, Hocking, Monroe, Pike, Ross, Scioto, Vinton and Washington counties.

Club Owners May Vote For Commissioner

DETROIT (AP) — Executives of the 20 major league baseball clubs may vote on a new commissioner when they meet in suburban Dearborn July 21.

Commissioner Ford Frick, scheduled to retire next December, announced the meeting Wednesday but said only that it would deal with a couple of amendments proposed by owners last winter.

But a reliable source said the principal business would be the discussion of a new commissioner.

Although no decision is expected to be reached, there is an outside chance a vote will be taken. Fourteen votes, at least seven from each league, are needed for election.

If there is no vote, it is almost certain that the executives will at least reduce the nomination list to a minimum. Candidates at one time were said to number more than 100.

Miss Moffitt Is Last U.S. Singles Hope

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., relaxed before today's women's singles semifinals in the Wimbledon Championships and said:

"The fact that I'm the last American in the Wimbledon singles will help me tremendously mentally."

Billie Jean plays defending champion Mario Bueno of Brazil and Margaret Smith of Australia tackles Christine Truman, the darling of the British fans, in the other semifinal.

Dennis Ralston, 22-year-old from Bakersfield, Calif., was eliminated in the men's singles semifinals Wednesday, losing 6-1, 6-2, 7-9, 6-1 to defending champion Roy Emerson of Australia.

In the other men's singles semifinal match, Fred Stolle of Australia defeated Cliff Drysdale of South Africa 6-3, 6-3, 7-5.

So for the third straight year Stolle is in finals. He's lost twice — once to Chuck McKinley of Port Washington, N.Y., and last year to Emerson.

Bille Jean, ranked No. 2 in the United States, and seeded fifth for Wimbledon, talked about her previous tussles with Miss Bueno and said:

"She's got a slight edge on me. But we're players of similar style. She's more graceful. But I like playing her. I think I play better against her than many other players."

Oil from the jaws of a porpoise was at one time considered the "ideal lubricant" for the finest of watches.

Shroades' Slam Paces Post 374 To 14-2 Win

A grand slam home run by Shroades led Post 374 out of its batting slump into a 14-2 victory over Hanoverton in a County Legion League battle Wednesday at Hanoverton.

Shroades collected two other hits and showed five RBI's for the evening. Two other home runs came off the bats of Larry Ensinger and Bill Wright.

While his teammates were collecting 11 hits, Jack Myler gave up only three singles in pitching the victory.

Rick Engle, the losing pitcher, fanned 13 batters but gave up 10 walks. Randy Engle had two of his team's three hits.

Chamberlain May Go Into Boxing Game

NEW YORK (AP) — Can you imagine big Wilt Chamberlain the 7-foot-1 pro basketball star, as a heavyweight fighter?

Maybe it isn't as fantastic as it sounds. Chamberlain isn't as frail as he appears at first glance. He is a 28-year-old, sturdy 250-pounder who has held his own in many a rumpus in National Basketball Association games.

Chamberlain said Wednesday he "definitely is contemplating" switching from sinking a basket to socking an opponent. "I've had several offers, but I haven't made up my mind. I'll make my decision when I'm ready. That could be anytime."

Turkey Season Set For Ohio Hunters

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio hunters have almost a year to unlimber the old shotgun and practice their turkey calls for the state's first wild turkey season in more than 60 years.

A wild turkey hunt need no longer be a gleam in grandpa's eye according to Jack Kamman, chief of the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Next year hunters can bag one turkey from May 4-7 in Adams, Athens, Hocking, Monroe, Pike, Ross, Scioto, Vinton and Washington counties.

Club Owners May Vote For Commissioner

DETROIT (AP) — Executives of the 20 major league baseball clubs may vote on a new commissioner when they meet in suburban Dearborn July 21.

Commissioner Ford Frick, scheduled to retire next December, announced the meeting Wednesday but said only that it would deal with a couple of amendments proposed by owners last winter.

But a reliable source said the principal business would be the discussion of a new commissioner.

Although no decision is expected to be reached, there is an outside chance a vote will be taken. Fourteen votes, at least seven from each league, are needed for election.

If there is no vote, it is almost certain that the executives will at least reduce the nomination list to a minimum. Candidates at one time were said to number more than 100.

AFL Gains Right In Philly

NFL Wins Atlanta Battle, Stadium Awarded To Club

By PIET BENNETT
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Taking its first step into the eager Southeast, the National Football League awarded a franchise to an Atlanta businessman Wednesday and then defeated the American Football League for playing rights to the city's new 58,000-seat stadium.

Atlanta's team will begin play in 1966.

Rankin M. Smith, 39, executive vice president of Life Insurance Co. of Georgia, was awarded the franchise for an estimated $9 million. Smith did not announce an exact figure.

The Atlanta Stadium Authority awarded Smith's entry playing rights to the stadium on a 10-year lease. Smith offered 10 per cent of the gross admissions while the AFL franchise holder, Cox Broadcasting Corp., offered eight per cent.

While gaining a decisive victory in Atlanta, the NFL also managed to keep its rival from obtaining playing rights to Philadelphia's planned $25 million stadium.

However, under a compromise agreement between the NFL Eagles and the city, the AFL obtained playing rights to the University of Pennsylvania's Franklin Field and could field a team there by 1967 when the new stadium will be completed.

Lamar Hunt, a member of the younger league's expansion committee, said he expected the league to delay a decision about moving into Philadelphia for a month or more because of the opposition of one or two owners.

At New Orleans, promoter Dave Dixon said that he had received a query about possible AFL expansion to the Louisiana city in 1966.

Dixon, president of New Orleans Pro Football Club, Inc., announced he would meet today with AFL officials to discuss the possibility of placing a team in New Orleans.

Despite the announcement of AFL interest, Dixon said, "I think New Orleans should be the odds-on choice for the 16th NFL franchise." He said he assumed the AFL's tenative offer resulted from the NFL having squeezed the newer league out of Atlanta.

Lema Isn't Keen On British Open

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Champagne Tony Lema, the big name in the $70,000 Western Open golf tournament starting today, can take the British Open or leave it alone.

That's news, because Lema is defending champion in the British Open next week at Southport, England.

The Western Open at Tam O'Shanter Country Club ends Saturday.

"I'm not too crazy about playing golf in England," said Lema without elaboration, except to hint he is most interested in playing any tournament for what it's worth.

"After you win a certain amount of money in golf," continued Lema—second in the PGA money-winning list, "it seems to become a matter of 'how many major tournaments have you won.'

"I've only won the British Open as a big one and I'm in this business to make money.

"They (Western Golf Association) weren't getting too many of the top money-winners and I'm one—even if I'm not a big draw. I also don't think I can afford to pass up a tournament like this one to practice all week for another."

Skipping the Western Open are such top attractions as newly-crowned U.S. Open champion Gary Player; leading PGA money-winner Jack Nicklaus; and slumping star Arnie Palmer—all making the British Open their next stop.

Lema won last year's British Open at St. Andrews after only 36 holes of practice, flying to England, as he will do again Sunday, after the Western Open finish.

Lema last year tied for sixth in the Western, which was won by Chi Chi Rodriguez with a record-breaking 268, 16 under par.

Rodriguez and Lema head a field of 130 pros, including eight of the top 15 PGA money winners.

Grant Wins Again

OCEANPORT, N.J. (AP) — Jockey Howard Grant won his fifth stakes race of the meeting and his fourth straight when he scored with Carry Forward 2nd in the Long Branch Stakes at Monmouth Park Wednesday.

Chuvalo KO's Foe In Third

REGINA (AP) — George Chuvalo of Toronto, Canadian heavyweight champion, knocked out Dave Bailey of Philadelphia in 38 seconds of the third round of a scheduled 12-round boxing bout Wednesday night.

Chuvalo, who weighed 212, concentrated on a punishing body attack for the first two rounds, then charged from his corner in the third. He knocked Bailey, 214½, across the ring with a wicked right. Another right hand dropped Bailey, a sparring partner of world champion Cassius Clay.

Chuvalo hoped to use a victory against the seasoned Philadelphia veteran as a stepping-stone to a title match with Clay.

AFL Gains Right In Philly

NFL Wins Atlanta Battle, Stadium Awarded To Club

By PIET BENNETT
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Taking its first step into the eager Southeast, the National Football League awarded a franchise to an Atlanta businessman Wednesday and then defeated the American Football League for playing rights to the city's new 58,000-seat stadium.

Atlanta's team will begin play in 1966.

Rankin M. Smith, 39, executive vice president of Life Insurance Co. of Georgia, was awarded the franchise for an estimated $9 million. Smith did not announce an exact figure.

The Atlanta Stadium Authority awarded Smith's entry playing rights to the stadium on a 10-year lease. Smith offered 10 per cent of the gross admissions while the AFL franchise holder, Cox Broadcasting Corp., offered eight per cent.

While gaining a decisive victory in Atlanta, the NFL also managed to keep its rival from obtaining playing rights to Philadelphia's planned $25 million stadium.

However, under a compromise agreement between the NFL Eagles and the city, the AFL obtained playing rights to the University of Pennsylvania's Franklin Field and could field a team there by 1967 when the new stadium will be completed.

Lamar Hunt, a member of the younger league's expansion committee, said he expected the league to delay a decision about moving into Philadelphia for a month or more because of the opposition of one or two owners.

At New Orleans, promoter Dave Dixon said that he had received a query about possible AFL expansion to the Louisiana city in 1966.

Dixon, president of New Orleans Pro Football Club, Inc., announced he would meet today with AFL officials to discuss the possibility of placing a team in New Orleans.

Despite the announcement of AFL interest, Dixon said, "I think New Orleans should be the odds-on choice for the 16th NFL franchise." He said he assumed the AFL's tenative offer resulted from the NFL having squeezed the newer league out of Atlanta.

County 4-H Clubs Join In Beautify U.S. Drive

LISBON — Members of the various Columbiana County 4-H clubs will join in President Johnson's program to beautify America in accordance with the national program.

Individually, 4-H members may earn recognition at county, state and national levels, including medals of honor, savings bonds, trips to the national 4-H Club congress and scholarships.

Awards will be made on the basis of individual achievement in beautification of home grounds and for participation in community improvement projects.

Supervision of the program will be handled by the cooperative extension services of the land-grant universities and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

A typical example of this work in action can be seen in the Eagleton's Glen area on County Route 411, just west of State Route 45.

Here, the Beaver Creek 4-H Club has cleared the park area for picnicking and constructed picnic tables.

"With proper community interest, the efforts of these 4-H'ers could lead to a vast expansion of this natural conservation area. And it is hoped that many other projects can be developed throughout Columbiana County," Robert Lewis, county extension agent in 4-H work, commented today.

3 Held In Arms Shipments From New York Store

NEW YORK (AP)—Police reported today the seizure of mortars, machine guns, pistols and ammunition at a sporting goods shop that allegedly had been shipping armaments to an anti-Castro group inside Cuba.

Three men—one listed as a Cuban—were arrested.

Detective Edward Lehane, head of a six-man detail that raided the shop, said armaments had been sent to South America for reshipment to Cuba. The South American destination was not made public.

The three men were booked at a police station on charges of violation of state antiweapons law and of conspiracy to sell weapons illegally.

The prisoners were listed as: George de Meo, 31, of Brooklyn, proprieter of the store.

Antonio Guardino, 36, of Brooklyn, an employe of the shop.

Louis Marti, 33, a Cuban, of the Bronx.

Police said he was a representative of an anti-Castro group with members in Cuba, Miami, Fla., and elsewhere.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General John A. Gronouski today issued a final order to make the Zip code mandatory for all bulk users of second and third class mail by Jan. 1, 1967.

But a House Post Office subcommittee was trying to head him off at the pass. It approved a bill Wednesday that would delay the mandatory deadline until Jan. 1, 1970.

Annapolis Honors Longtime Majordomo Of Famed Hotel

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — When Marcellus Gabriel Hall, attired as always in his starched khaki uniform glistening with the 10 stars that designate him admiral of Chesapeake Bay, walks down the tree-lined oval drive at Carvel Hall today, he'll complete a temporary job that lasted more than half a century.

Carvel Hall, a hotel that has been the center of Annapolis social life for two centuries, closes today. And Hall, 72, the Negro who has been its majordomo more than 52 years, will be out of a job. Hall says he's had a couple of job offers but he hasn't decided whether to accept.

The Maryland Legislature appropriated money to purchase the hotel when it was learned that the yellow brick structure was to be demolished for a parking lot. The William Paca House portion of the building, built in 1763 by the Maryland signer of the Declaration of Independence, will be restored. The hotel section, built in 1890, is to be razed.

Carvel Hall is the only major hotel in this home of the U.S. Naval Academy, and Hall was the first friend that thousands of midshipmen found here.

When they would bring their dates to the hotel after a dance, Hall was there to enforce the rule that all floors above the first were out of bounds. As the 1 a.m. curfew neared, he would scund off with a stern, "All ashore that's going ashore."

Reminiscing about his early days at the hotel, Hall recalled that the "manager wanted me to help him with his bell boys. I agreed to do it for just one day. It's been a long day."

More than 230 Maryland dignitaries including Gov. and Mrs. J. Millard Tawes turned out Tuesday night to honor Hall. As the stocky, balding man rose from the table of honor to accept the governor's citation for service, he remarked: "Well, here I am. It took me a little time to get up to this head table, but as the eagle in the lobby says, 'Don't give up the ship.'"

She won $350 a week temporary alimony and $2,500 partial payment to her attorney in a Miami court Wednesday.

County 4-H Clubs Join In Beautify U.S. Drive

LISBON — Members of the various Columbiana County 4-H clubs will join in President Johnson's program to beautify America in accordance with the national program.

Individually, 4-H members may earn recognition at county, state and national levels, including medals of honor, savings bonds, trips to the national 4-H Club congress and scholarships.

Awards will be made on the basis of individual achievement in beautification of home grounds and for participation in community improvement projects.

Supervision of the program will be handled by the cooperative extension services of the land-grant universities and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

A typical example of this work in action can be seen in the Eagleton's Glen area on County Route 411, just west of State Route 45.

Here, the Beaver Creek 4-H Club has cleared the park area for picnicking and constructed picnic tables.

"With proper community interest, the efforts of these 4-H'ers could lead to a vast expansion of this natural conservation area. And it is hoped that many other projects can be developed throughout Columbiana County," Robert Lewis, county extension agent in 4-H work, commented today.

4-H Winners Are Announced In Safety, Health Contests

LISBON — Eighty-six 4-H'ers participated in the county health and safety speaking contest Tuesday night at the Methodist Church.

More than 200 parents, advisers and 4-H'ers attended the annual event, according to Robert Lewis, county extension agent in 4-H work.

The program is held each year to promote health and safety and make club members more aware of this phase of 4-H work.

Prizes and awards were presented to the winners by Art Carrier of the Ohio Farmers Insurance Co. and Leroy and Wayne Bower of the Todd Insurance Co. of Columbiana. The Farmers Bank of Salem, Todd Insurance and the G. Cecil Rauch Agency of Lisbon sponsored this year's contest.

Annapolis Honors Longtime Majordomo Of Famed Hotel

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — When Marcellus Gabriel Hall, attired as always in his starched khaki uniform glistening with the 10 stars that designate him admiral of Chesapeake Bay, walks down the tree-lined oval drive at Carvel Hall today, he'll complete a temporary job that lasted more than half a century.

Carvel Hall, a hotel that has been the center of Annapolis social life for two centuries, closes today. And Hall, 72, the Negro who has been its majordomo more than 52 years, will be out of a job. Hall says he's had a couple of job offers but he hasn't decided whether to accept.

The Maryland Legislature appropriated money to purchase the hotel when it was learned that the yellow brick structure was to be demolished for a parking lot. The William Paca House portion of the building, built in 1763 by the Maryland signer of the Declaration of Independence, will be restored. The hotel section, built in 1890, s to be razed.

Carvel Hall is the only major hotel in this home of the U.S. Naval Academy, and Hall was he first friend that thousands of midshipmen found here.

When they would bring their dates to the hotel after a dance, Hall was there to enforce the rule that all floors above the first were out of bounds. As the 1 a.m. curfew neared, he would scund off with a stern, "All ashore that's going ashore."

Reminiscing about his early days at the hotel, Hall recalled that the "manager wanted me to help him with his bell boys. I agreed to do it for just one day. It's been a long day."

More than 230 Maryland dignitaries including Gov. and Mrs. J. Millard Tawes turned out Tuesday night to honor Hall. As the stocky, balding man rose from the table of honor to accept the governor's citation for service, he remarked: "Well, here I am. It took me a little time to get up to this head table, but as the eagle in the lobby says, 'Don't give up the ship.'"

3 Held In Arms Shipments From New York Store

NEW YORK (AP)—Police reported today the seizure of mortars, machine guns, pistols and ammunition at a sporting goods shop that allegedly had been shipping armaments to an anti-Castro group inside Cuba.

Three men—one listed as a Cuban—were arrested.

Detective Edward Lehane, head of a six-man detail that raided the shop, said armaments had been sent to South America for reshipment to Cuba. The South American destination was not made public.

The three men were booked at a police station on charges of violation of state antiweapons law and of conspiracy to sell weapons illegally.

The prisoners were listed as:

George de Meo, 31, of Brooklyn, proprieter of the store.

Antonio Guardino, 36, of Brooklyn, an employe of the shop.

Louis Marti, 33, a Cuban, of the Bronx.

Police said he was a representative of an anti-Castro group with members in Cuba, Miami, Fla., and elsewhere.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, July 1, the 182nd day of 1965. There are 183 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1898 in Cuba, American troops stormed San Juan Hill under a withering fire from the Spanish entrenched at the top. Among the attacking units was Col. Theodore Roosevelt's Rough Rider cavalry. The Spaniards fled and "Teddy" and his men looked down on Santiago.

On this date:

In 1863, advance units of Confederate infantry exchanged fire with Union cavalry at the Pennsylvania farm village of Gettysburg. It was the start of the Battle of Gettysburg.

In 1881, the American Red Cross was incorporated, with Clara Barton as president.

In 1924, daily air mail service was started between New York and San Francisco.

In 1941, Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Afrika Corps reached Al Alamein.

In 1943, the pay-as-you-go income tax law went into effect.

Ten years ago — A transport and communications strike over the cost of living paralyzed six provinces of Chile.

Five years ago — The Eisenhower administration asked Congress for power to cut the quota of sugar imported from Cuba.

One year ago — Premier Levi Eshkol of Israel received a warm greeting from President Johnson in Washington.

Man's Body Located

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—The body of John Huricek, 64, of Ashtabula, who had been missing since Jan. 3, was recovered from the Ashtabula River here Wednesday. Dr. J. R. Higerd, Ashtabula County coroner, returned a verdict of death by drowning.

FBI Asked To Report On Missing Girl

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP) — "Gee, she'd be in the fourth grade by now and could read," said Lupe Gallegos of Alamogordo.

Mrs. Gallegos is the mother of Sharon Lynn Gallegos who was not quite five years old when she disappeared July 21, 1960.

As the fifth anniversary of the child's disappearance approaches, Mrs. Gallegos wrote Sen. Joseph Montoya, D-N.M., to ask for assistance.

Montoya said FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover had been asked whether the investigation is complete and to furnish her with an up-to-date report.

"I should be hearing from Mr. Hoover in the very near future, and I shall contact you at that time," Montoya's letter said.

Mrs. Gallegos also asked for publicity of the case hoping Sharon might read it and notify authorities.

An FBI bulletin circulated after the disappearance quotes witnesses as saying a man and woman kidnaped Sharon and that they were driving an old model, dark green car.

Sharon was playing with other children at the time and one was quoted by officers as saying the car had stopped and the woman asked Sharon to come with her, promising to buy her clothes and candy. When Sharon refused, the playmate said, the woman dragged her into the car.

Other reports indicated the woman was seen in the vicinity of the Gallegos home several times prior to the incident.

The Mets won a total of three games in Los Angeles, Milwaukee and Philadelphia out of 27 played in 1964.

U.S. Budget Deficit Set At $3.5 Billion For 1965

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government entered its sixth straight year of red-ink financing today but pointed with some pride to a sharply reduced deficit in the fiscal year just ended.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler announced that the fiscal 1965 deficit, on which the books closed at midnight, was an estimated $3.5 billion. That compared with President Johnson's January forecast of a $6.3 billion deficit.

The secretary foresaw a $4.2-billion deficit for the new fiscal year. That implies a $1.1-billion improvement since January. Some other officials predicted privately that this deficit, too, will be whittled down if the business boom continues.

Assurance that the boom will indeed continue was given by Fowler at a fiscal year-end news conference. Conditions are excellent, he said, for "sound, stable and sustainable economic health and expansion."

Fowler went on: "So far as the eye of economic foresight can see ahead, there is no indication of economic difficulty.

"It is still entirely possible to have a recession some time in the distant future; (but) our analysis of the economic situation reveals none of those imbalances or excesses that bring about economic downturns."

However, the fiscal outlook is not completely rosy. Government sources reported that:

The $100-billion yearly spending level, avoided narrowly by Johnson for the past two years, undoubtedly will be crossed in fiscal 1967, the year which begins 12 months from today.

The Defense Department, which provided most of the budget cuts that made room for Johnson's new "Great Society" programs, is unlikely to find further substantial savings possible.

The 1967 budget, already in early stages of preparation, will show another deficit, the seventh in succession.

Last week's cut in excise taxes, a bigger one than Johnson had proposed in January, will postpone the arrival of a balanced budget. But administration economists contend that its stimulative effects, like that of the great tax reduction of 1964, will underpin the national prosperity and make eventual surpluses more certain.

Governor Plans Stops Along Lake Erie Coast

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes' "Wonderful Waterland of Ohio" tour next week will include stops at scenic Lake Erie points and a full day in Cleveland.

The governor and his party will stop July 7 at Vermilion, Milan, Castalia, and travel by boat to Catawba Island and Put-in-Bay. The tour also will include Cedar Point and dinner Wednesday night in Cleveland.

Lower Than Estimate

U.S. Budget Deficit Set At $3.5 Billion For 1965

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government entered its sixth straight year of red-ink financing today but pointed with some pride to a sharply reduced deficit in the fiscal year just ended.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler announced that the fiscal 1965 deficit, on which the books closed at midnight, was an estimated $3.5 billion. That compared with President Johnson's January forecast of a $6.3 billion deficit.

The secretary foresaw a $4.2-billion deficit for the new fiscal year. That implies a $1.1-billion improvement since January. Some other officials predicted privately that this deficit, too, will be whittled down if the business boom continues.

Assurance that the boom will indeed continue was given by Fowler at a fiscal year-end news conference. Conditions are excellent, he said, for "sound, stable and sustainable economic health and expansion."

Fowler went on: "So far as the eye of economic foresight can see ahead, there is no indication of economic difficulty.

"It is still entirely possible to have a recession some time in the distant future; (but) our analysis of the economic situation reveals none of those imbalances or excesses that bring about economic downturns."

However, the fiscal outlook is not completely rosy. Government sources reported that:

The $100-billion yearly spending level, avoided narrowly by Johnson for the past two years, undoubtedly will be crossed in fiscal 1967, the year which begins 12 months from today.

The Defense Department, which provided most of the budget cuts that made room for Johnson's new "Great Society" programs, is unlikely to find further substantial savings possible.

The 1967 budget, already in early stages of preparation, will show another deficit, the seventh in succession.

Last week's cut in excise taxes, a bigger one than Johnson had proposed in January, will postpone the arrival of a balanced budget. But administration economists contend that its stimulative effects, like that of the great tax reduction of 1964, will underpin the national prosperity and make eventual surpluses more certain.

Governor Plans Stops Along Lake Erie Coast

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes' "Wonderful Waterland of Ohio" tour next week will include stops at scenic Lake Erie points and a full day in Cleveland.

The governor and his party will stop July 7 at Vermilion, Milan, Castalia, and travel by boat to Catawba Island and Put-in-Bay. The tour also will include Cedar Point and dinner Wednesday night in Cleveland.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our beautiful 17-year-old daughter is in the bedroom sobbing her heart out. Her steady boy friend, Artie, told her this afternoon that he wants his ring and picture back. He didn't give any reason—just that he wants to date other girls and spend more time on athletics.

Do you know what it's like to hear a 17-year-old say she doesn't want to go on living? She hardly touched her dinner tonight and her eyes look like red coals. When she was telling us about her tragedy both my husband and I broke down and wept. Please say something to help relieve the situation. — EMPTY HEARTS.

Dear Empty: High school kids break up by the thousands every day. Pictures, rings, sweaters, pins and bracelets are shot back and forth like ping pong balls.

Instead of weeping with your daughter you should have told her that the cry baby who folds like an accordion when things don't go her way is in for a rough time.

It Takes All Kinds

Dear Ann: Recently you said many people who want replies in the mail enclose envelopes which they address to Ann Landers instead of to themselves. You expressed surprise that so many people make this mistake.

Why? Don't you know the average American is a moron? I've worked in our city hall for 20 years and nothing surprises me anymore.

There are the old crows who knock 40 pounds off their weight and 10 years off their age when they fill out forms. Who do they think they are kidding? Last week a motherly type with snow-white tresses put down "red" to describe her hair color. When I called the error to her attention she said, "I'm having it dyed tomorrow."

You, Ann Landers, should know that people can be awfully nutty.—OLD TIMER.

Dear Old Timer: People can also be awfully warm-hearted, generous, heroic and unbelievably kind.

And since you work in city hall, please pass the word to someone higher up that some of those goofy forms are worded in such confusing language that Einstein would need help.

Twice Given

Dear Ann: I was delighted when you told that daughter-in-law it was up to her to write to her husband's mother. I didn't realize how much my cards meant to my mother-in-law until last Christmas. When we visited her she took out a Christmas card which she had saved over the years.

Sandwiched in among my own were cards written by the children. There was one scrawled by our daughter when she was 10, written in the beauty shop while she waited to have her pigtails cut off. And there was a card from our son written from the dog and cat hospital. His little dog, "Mr. Jones," had been struck by a car and he had just received word that "'Mr. Jones' is going to be okay."

We had a good laugh over the card we had mailed while driving through Paris, Tex. We sent it as a gag, hoping Grandma would think we were in France.

Our "Too-Busy-To-Write Daddy" was touched by my consideration for his mother. I'm sure he appreciates me just a little more.—PATTY.

Dear Patty: It's like I said—writing to a mother-in-law comes under the heading of being a good wife. You do it as much for your husband as for his mother. Cheers!

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: I use my French fryer, basket and ALL, for cooking macaroni, noodles and spaghetti. Never sticks, and I have my drainer right there in the fryer.

I lift the basket out and hold it under the faucet to blanch.

Works like a charm!

MRS. E. KENNICUTT.

Now, this is a real lulu, as far as I am concerned.

Here's another one I tried after reading your hint:

When making mashed potatoes, boil the cut - up spuds in your French fry basket, which has been set into an ordinary pan.

When done, take to the sink, lift up the basket in one hand, pour the scalding water from the pan down the drain, (prevents steam burns) and put the drained spuds back into the hot pot to mash.

In just a second, you can take your vegetable brush and wash that basket under the faucet while your oleo is melting in the potatoes.

It's very dangerous to pour scalding water off vegetables; then, too, we really never get the last bit of water drained off, do we?

For those who do not own regular French fryers, drain baskets may be bought separately at most stores, and are worth their weight in gold. Try boiling eggs in one. Great!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When sweeping the floor, do you often see a rubber band, and have to put down your broom to pick up the rubber band and place it where you keep them?

I just slip them on my broom handle! It's a nice, handy place to keep them, and it saves time. Also, I don't have to fumble around in a drawer when I need a rubber band.

MRS. A.

DEAR HELOISE: Undiluted vinegar will remove the white rings from glasses because it dissolves the mineral deposits. Just dip a cloth in straight vinegar and rub hard on the deposit.

Also, swish a little around in the bottom of your stainless steel cookware. It makes it look like new.

R.B.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Why does dye that "fades" from a sock, Become so "fast" when it hits a frock???

D. BURVILLE.

DEAR HELOISE: Whenever mailing fragile items, use plastic cleaning bags to cushion and pack around them.

Just stuff around in the box, letting air pockets remain in the plastic to act as a cushion and prevent breakage.

Also, the package will weigh less than most other packings and will save postage.

SANDY BROOKS.

DEAR HELOISE: Perhaps the noise in a water pipe could be caused by vibration because some part of the opening-closing mechanism (valve stem assembly) is loose—until full opening jams it against the faucet (valve) bonnet and stops the vibration.

A new valve stem assembly may remedy the trouble. If not, a complete new valve is indicated.

Fourth Of July Perils Stir Another Warning

LISBON — Fireworks and the Fourth of July still go together, even though it is illegal to sell and use fireworks, except as provided by law in specific instances.

Many Ohioans will experience accidents this year from the use of firecrackers and other similar fireworks. This need not be so if fireworks are properly supervised in accordance with Ohio law and local ordinances, Dr. Merle Singer, county health commissioner, points out.

Illegal use of fireworks in Ohio by children last year resulted in many injuries, with typical accidents involving the face, hands, fingers and eyes.

Ohio law states, "No parent of a person under the age of 21, shall purchase, furnish to, or knowingly permit such a person to possess fireworks."

Except as provided by law, it is illegal for fireworks to be used without written permission from the state fire marshal. It is unlawful to sell fireworks retail. "Check with police and fire officials before fireworks are bought or used," Dr. Singer advises.

Recently, the Food and Drug Administration at Washington advised dealers and parents to be on the lookout for a new kind of fireworks said to be dangerous to children in an unusual manner. The fireworks were described as having the appearance of small colored candy balls. They sometimes are marketed under the name of "Cracker Balls." Children often mistakenly think the balls are candy, Dr. Singer explained.

"Have fun on the Fourth, but practice safe habits on the highway, in recreation areas (don't swim where lifeguards are not employed) and in the home (prevent falls by using a ladder instead of a stool) so you can enjoy the fifth, too," he concluded.

Senate Confirms McKee For FAA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate confirmed Wednesday by voice vote President Johnson's appointment of retired Air Force Gen. William F. McKee to head the Federal Aviation Agency.

Although a number of senators had opposed the nomination, only Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, spoke against it. He called it a bad appointment because it violated the principle of civilian control of the FAA.

Congress last week approved a bill to suspend the requirement that the FAA administrator be a civilian and to let McKee draw $8,400 of his Air Force retirement pay in addition to his $30,000 FAA salary.

Polish Troops Moved Into Defense Agency

WARSAW (AP) — The Polish government is transferring control of the 42,500-man internal security and frontier forces from the interior ministry to the defense ministry.

Diplomatic sources viewed the move as a reduction in power and prestige for the internal affairs minister, Gen. Mieczyslaw Moczar, regarded as an ambitious hard-liner. They said it exemplified how the regime of Wladyslaw Gomulka maintains a balance among the factions of the ruling Communist party.

SEATO Aides Warns Of Asiatic Showdown

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Lt. Gen. Jesus M. Argas of the Philippines became secretary-general of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization today.

He warned in a speech to officials of the eight-nation alliance that a showdown with the Communists "is bound to occur, not in Europe or the Americas or anywhere else distant, but right here in Southeast Asia."

Controls Set On Ohio Gas, Oil Industry

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Long-awaited legislation to regulate Ohio's booming oil and gas industry is on its way to Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Passage was completed Wednesday by the Senate, marking the end of prolonged committee hearings, voluminous testimony, and bitter floor debate.

Rep. Harry Armstrong, D-Hocking, was author of the measure which will set up a division of oil and gas in the Department of Natural Resources to take over functions now carried out by the Department of Mines.

Armstrong pointed out that the legislation is needed to place conservation and pollution restrictions on an industry which last year produced $63 million worth of oil and gas.

The Senate action occurred simultaneously with House approval of a bill increasing the pensions of more than 300,000 members of the state's three retirement systems.

Members retiring after Jan. 1 will receive monthly increases of 6.06 per cent from the teachers, school employes, and state employe retirement funds.

Those who retired before June 29, 1959 would get an increase of $10 a month, and those retiring between that date and Jan. 1 also would receive $10 unless the boost would put them beyond 75 per cent of their final average salary.

In an otherwise uneventful Senate session, bills were passed to clarify statutes involving vocational school districts, increase pensions for widows of firemen from $75 to $90 a month, and allow Jefferson County commissioners to transfer land to receive funds for a new orphans' home.

An emergency act extending Ohio's program of Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed was rushed through both houses and sent to Gov James A. Rhodes to meet a Wednesday midnight federal deadline. The bill qualifies the state for additional federal funds by placing the program on a permanent basis.

The Senate Civil Service Committee recommended passage of a bill to provide pay raises for 39,000 state employes. It would affect mostly lower paid workers, costing about $20 million a year when fully implemented. The Senate is expected to approve the House-passed measure next week.

President Signs Law Reducing Duty Limits

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has signed into law a compromise bill lowering to $100 retail value the amount of duty-free purchases that U.S. tourists can bring into the country from overseas.

But the new limit does not go into effect until Oct. 1. At present, tourists can bring in goods valued at $100 wholesale—about $167 retail.

If Johnson had not acted before midnight Wednesday, the old limit of $500 wholesale value would have gone back into effect.

Beatle Combo Faces Probe By Indonesians

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The leader of a local jazz group is reported in hot water because his combo performed "Beatle" songs at a private party.

Local newspapers said the Jakarta prosecutor is questioning Tonny Kuswomo, leader of the Kus Bersaudara (Kus Brothers) to find out if "subversive elements" were involved.

Philippines Ban Tass News Correspondent

MANILA (AP) — The foreign office said today it has barred a correspondent for Tass, the Soviet news agency, from the Philippines. It said nationals of Communist countries can enter only under auspices of the United Nations.

Sergei Svirin, the Tass correspondent in Bangkok, had asked permission to station himself in Manila.

Court Ends Mississippi Parade Ban

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A federal appeals court has struck down city ordinances banning parades without permits but civil rights demonstrators here still face arrest if they march on the State Capitol.

The Capitol has been the main target of the largely Negro demonstrations here for three weeks. Nearly 1,000 have been arrested.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans issued an injunction Wednesday halting enforcement of three Jackson ordinances dealing with public parades and distribution of handbills.

"We'll abide by the court order," said Chief of Detectives M.B. Pierce, who had led the police force's "instant arrest" squads.

Although the city technically didn't have to obey the appellate court action until it received formal notice, the police radio network told officers to end arrests under the three city ordinances shortly after court acted in New Orleans.

Eighteen more demonstrators were arrested Wednesday, however.

They were jailed under a recently passed state law forbidding demonstrations on the State Capitol, at the governor's mansion and the old Capitol building.

The 18 marched to the Capitol, sat down on the front steps, and demanded to speak with Gov. Paul B. Johnson.

NAACP Readies Drive To Curb Bias In Housing

DENVER (AP)—Plans for a drive against racial discrimination in housing are emerging from the 56th annual convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Jack E. Wood Jr., co-director of the National Committee against Discrimination in Housing, said today he anticipated the drive would be "at least of the same magnitude" as the voter rights drive in the South.

"Unlike voter discrimination, housing bias takes place all over the country—not just in the South," he said.

Wood is a former housing director for the New York City Commission of Human Rights and the former housing secretary of the NAACP.

He said the NAACP will urge the federal government to withhold urban renewal funds from entire cities allegedly permitting housing discrimination and not just from specific projects.

Plane Pioneer Begins Duties As City Official

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP)—Al Key has logged many hours in the air since he set an endurance flight record back in the days of flag pole sitting and bathtub booze.

Today marks the 30th anniversary of Key's flight — 656 hours, 34 minutes in the air — and he'll celebrate in an unusual way.

The strapping six-footer takes office as mayor of Meridian, Mississippi's second largest city.

Al and his brother Fred flew a single engine Curtis Robin plane to an official world endurance flight standard.

Cold Brings New Storms

By The Associated Press

A massive cold air system which brought record low temperatures to the Midwest and New England loosed violent weather today along its advancing edge from the plains to South Carolina.

Tornadoes speared sections of Colorado, Oklahoma and southwest Missouri. Funnel clouds whirled over South Dakota and eastern Montana. Little damage was reported from these.

Heaviest rain on the front was reported at Myrtle Beach, S.C. —1.68 inches.

Flint, Mich., with a low temperature of 40 degrees, and Milwaukee, Wis., with 41, set all-time July cold marks.

The cold front broke a week-long string of 90-plus days in the northern gulf states area and parts of the Southeast.

Mother, Ex-Wife Ask Actor's Estate Action

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Steve Cochran's mother and his third wife have each asked Superior Court to name them administratrix of his estate.

Mrs. Rose Cochran, 79, filed a petition Wednesday, estimating her son's estate at $25,000.

A similar petition was filed Tuesday by Cochran's estranged wife, Jonna, 23. She valued the estate at $150,000.

Both petitions said the actor left no will.

Cochran, 48, died June 15 on his yacht in waters off Guatemala. His third wife had filed for divorce prior to his departure on the cruise.

Out Of The Air

BY JOHN HORN

News Documentaries

NEW YORK — As it has over recent years, NBC News again has in the works more than 40 television documentary specials for the coming season. The count at the moment actually is 43. Last year there were 53.

Although the range is wide, going from a two-part Lou Hazam production on Michelangelo to a Chet Hagen-Chet Huntley shot at "The Right Wing" (of American politics), the subjects have more of a hard news and controversial look than usual cultural - historical programs.

GERALD GREEN, for instance, is producing "Voice of the Dragon," a color film about Red China by foreign-born cameramen of a Screen Gems production unit, and "Hungary—10 Years Later."

The author - producer now is writing a script for the China show due for telecast early next year. Filming currently is taking place in Hungary with correspondent Frank Bourgholtzer. That show is scheduled for next spring.

Producer Ted Yates has four programs in progress: an examination of unrest in Central America, another of the causes of conflict in the Congo, "A Study of Congress," based on a survey made for NBC by A. D. Little Co. of Boston and "America the Beautiful," an ironic look at the defacement of the United States.

ONLY TWO dates have been set: Oct. 3 for "beauty" and Nov. 24 for the congressional closeup, which will be narrated by David Brinkley.

The wide use and social acceptance of marijuana and "Portrait of White Mississippi" are two of Frank De Fellitta's forthcoming productions. Another is "The World of the Teen-Ager," a sociological study of Lexington, Mass., youngsters who somehow have been assessed "typical."

Invasion of privacy, "The Big Ear," will be the subject of one of three Reuven Frank specials. He was producer of the "Huntley-Brinkley Report" for many years.

-:-

"THE DECISION to Surrender" (by the Japanese in World War II), produced by Len Giovannitti, is penciled in for Sept. 19.

Lucy Jarvis' "Who Shall Live?" on Nov. 28 will examine the hard decision of a group of U.S. citizens who make life-and-death judgments on use of artificial kidneys.

And following the "American White Paper: U. S. Foreign Policy" Sept. 7, there will be three additional NBC White Papers from producer Fred Freed and his colleagues.

Naturally, more cultural programs like George Vicas' "Defeat of the Spanish Armada" (Nov. 14) and "The Reformation" (January) will crop up later on the datebook. But right now the NBC News special line is hard-nose and hard - news oriented.

-:-

Child, 1½, Given New Future After Heart Operation

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Little Maria Kim Atzinger is beginning to throw her weight around.

Maria 1½ weighs 12 pounds 1 ounce and is considered among the smallest patients to successfully undergo heart surgery.

At birth she weighed 3 pounds, 7 ounces. Her first seven weeks were spent in a hospital incubator.

When she was one year old, Maria would grip her mother's hand and try to walk.

But, she weighed only 10 pounds.

"She was so small people thought she was only a few months old," said her mother, Mrs. Jerome Atzinger.

Mrs. Atzinger said that she was ill during pregnancy, apparently from German measles.

Doctors found the baby suffered from a congenital heart defect, aggravated by severe hypertension.

Maria weighed 11 pounds 8 ounces last week when she underwent heart surgery, normally performed on children 3 to 15 years old.

Maria may have to come back to the hospital some day to have a cataract removed from her left eye.

But she is expected to go home Friday. Her doctors see no reason why she can't take up normal activity, gain some weight and in a few months reach average size for her age.

He was indicted by the Jan. 8 grand jury, pleaded guilty to the charge and requested probation. He was ordered to Lima State Hospital for observation and a report before the court acted on the request.

News Documentaries

NEW YORK As it has over recent years, NBC News again has in the works more than 40 television documentary specials for the coming season. The count at the moment actually is 43. Last year there were 53.

Although the range is wide, going from a two-part Lou Hazam production on Michelangelo to a Chet Hagen-Chet Huntley shot at "The Right Wing" (of American politics), the subjects have more of a hard news and controversial look than usual cultural - historical programs.

GERALD GREEN, for instance, is producing "Voice of the Dragon," a color film about Red China by foreign-born cameramen of a Screen Gems production unit, and "Hungary—10 Years Later."

The author - producer now is writing a script for the China show due for telecast early next year. Filming currently is taking place in Hungary with correspondent Frank Bourgholtzer. That show is scheduled for next spring.

Producer Ted Yates has four programs in progress: an examination of unrest in Central America, another of the causes of conflict in the Congo, "A Study of Congress," based on a survey made for NBC by A. D. Little Co. of Boston and "America the Beautiful," an ironic look at the defacement of the United States.

ONLY TWO dates have been set: Oct. 3 for "beauty" and Nov. 24 for the congressional closeup, which will be narrated by David Brinkley.

The wide use and social acceptance of marijuana and "Portrait of White Mississippi" are two of Frank De Fellitta's forthcoming productions. Another is "The World of the Teen-Ager," a sociological study of Lexington, Mass., youngsters who somehow have been assessed "typical."

Invasion of privacy, "The Big Ear," will be the subject of one of three Reuven Frank specials. He was producer of the "Huntley-Brinkley Report" for many years.

-:-

"THE DECISION to Surrender" (by the Japanese in World War II), produced by Len Giovannitti, is penciled in for Sept. 19.

Lucy Jarvis' "Who Shall Live?" on Nov. 28 will examine the hard decision of a group of U.S. citizens who make life-and-death judgments on use of artificial kidneys.

And following the "American White Paper: U. S. Foreign Policy" Sept. 7, there will be three additional NBC White Papers from producer Fred Freed and his colleagues.

Naturally, more cultural programs like George Vicas' "Defeat of the Spanish Armada" (Nov. 14) and "The Reformation" (January) will crop up later on the datebook. But right now the NBC News special line is hard-nose and hard - news oriented.

All Highway Patrol Officers Will Be On Duty For Holiday

All officers of the Lisbon and Wintersville State Highway Patrol posts will be on duty Friday through Monday, according to a state directive issued late Wednesday by Gov. James A. Rhodes at Columbus.

The governor called for an all-out drive against highway violations and mishaps. In response to the demand, Col. Anson B. Cook said all time off for officers has been canceled for the period.

This will provide an additional 135 patrolmen and cruisers for duty over the weekend, the largest number in history on the highways during a holiday.

The governor said "we must combat the ever - increasing killing on the highways." He commented that "Ohio has the best highways in the nation and steps must be taken to make them the safest. The day is past when motorists can be discouraged to stay at home on the holidays, since Ohio has many interesting and historic sites to visit."

Motorists want to see these sites and they should be encouraged to travel, but with utmost safety, he remarked.

Col. Cook said 475 additional uniformed officers will be added to the regular force to aid with traffic control. All secondary duties have been canceled. Cook said the State Highway Department is cooperating by supplying men and vehicles to relieve the patrol of routine duties.

Minors' Beer Buying Tied To Youth, 18

Roy Allen Scott, 18, of 1523 Wyoming Ave. is due for a Juvenile Court hearing Monday, July 12, on a charge he purchased beer for two other East Liverpool boys, 17 and 16.

The charge is an aftermath of the arrest of the 17-year-old early Wednesday on a charge he rifled the coin container in a soft drink vending machine at Chadwick's Sohio Service Station on Lisbon St., Pleasant Heights.

Juvenile Officer James Miller filed the charge at Lisbon against Scott and also cited the 16-year-old before Judge Louis Tobin on a charge of consuming beer. The 17-year-old who was accused of rifling the coin device already had enlisted in the Navy and he was permitted to depart this morning to be sworn in.

Miller said Scott and the 16-year-old were not involved in the rifling of the machine. After the 17-year-old was found at the service station by Patrolman J. A. Walsh, Scott and the 16-year-old were found at the younger boy's home, he related.

Miller said Scott admitted purchasing two six - packs of beer which were consumed by the trio. As a result, he was charged with contributing to their delinquency. Miller said Scott furnished some of the money for the beer and the others also contributed. The 17-year-old said he consumed four bottles of beer and the 16-year-old "had several," he related.

After a lengthy investigation, the 16-year-old said that he found the key to the soft drink machine while sweeping the floor of the service station while he was employed by Chadwick, the juvenile officer related.

With The Patients

Admitted to Salem City Hospital were Kittie Snyder, Robert Stock and Janet Fourney of Lisbon, Wendy Baker of Rogers, Raymond Rauch of East Palestine and Charles Butler of New Waterford. Discharged were Mrs. Anthony Pezzano and Peter Cibula Jr. of Lisbon and Mrs. Ernest Gotthardt of East Palestine.

Action Taken In Hawk Case

LISBON — A state Supreme Court decision returned nine days ago nullified an habitual criminal indictment against a Wellsville man convicted of three felonies.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of Columbiana County Common Pleas Court Wednesday dismissed the June 4 indictment against Carl Lee Hawk Jr., 25.

Hawk served a prison sentence for burglary and is awaiting transfer to the Ohio Penitentiary to serve sentences on jury convictions of burglary and armed robbery.

The Supreme Court ruling in a Champagn County case—state vs. Winters — held that crimes of "breaking and entering" and "armed robbery" are not specifically listed in the habitual criminal statute.

The statute's list of felonies does include burglary and robbery, but does not mention breaking and entering and armed robbery.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis asked Judge Buzzard to nolle the indictment since successful prosecution would be impossible.

The judge sentenced Hawk yesterday to 10 to 25 years for the $90 armed robbery of Robert Freeman last Feb. 17 in Betty's Market, Wellsville. Hawk is under sentence of 1 to 15 years for a Feb. 19 burglary at Cooper's American Oil Co. Station in East Liverpool. Both trials were in May.

Conviction under the habitual criminal indictment would have brought Hawk a 25-year sentence — the maximum penalty on his last conviction.

Safe Boating Week Deserves Note

By KEN McCREARY

Days, weeks and months observe just about everything from pickles to parents. Perhaps one of the most appropriate "special" weeks is July 4-11, Ohio Safe Boating Week.

This nautically notable week is particularly appropriate since the long July 4th holiday weekend will see a recorrd number of Ohioans afloat.

Officials of the Ohio Division of Watercraft, U. S. Coast Guard and other agencies are hoping the holiday span which kicks off Safe Boating Week will be a repeat of the Memorial Day weekend, when not a single boating death was reported in the Buckeye State.

—:—

ACCORDING to Paul Sarossy, chief of the state's Watercraft Division, overcrowding of boats is one of the prime causes of tragic mishaps. The carefree laughter of a family boat ride in an overcrowded craft can almost instantly become an emergency and panic situation. All too frequently this panic which occurs when a boat capsizes, swamps or sinks results in death.

Fire constitutes another primary cause of death and injury while boating. Among the "fire-free" suggestions for skippers passed along by Ohio Fire Marshal Fred Rice are:

Enforce strict "No Smoking" rules and extinguish all open flames when refueling. Carry the required, approved fire extinguisher designed for use on flammable liquid fires, and know how to use it. Inspect the engine and fuel system thoroughly for leaks before starting.

—:—

THE RULES for boating safety are many and varied, but they all boil down simply to using your head. As Sarossy puts it: "Never go afloat without taking two important crew members—courtesy and caution."

A nut-shell wrapup of the safety guide lines for fun afloat is contained in the "Ten Commandments of Safe Boating," passed along by the National Water Safety Congress:

I. Thou shalt not overload thy boat.

II. Thou shalt not "overpower" they boat with a motor too heavy and too powerful for the size boat it pushes.

III. Thou shalt not fail to have an approved life preserver on board and readily available for each passenger.

IV. Remember, carry thy fire extinguisher, flashlight, flares, tool kit, first - aid kit, whistle or horn, oars, and a substantial anchor with a tested-strength line.

V. Thou shalt not smoke while refueling.

VI. Thou shalt not fail to keep constant watch for floating debris, rocks, other boats, swimmers and water skiers.

VII. Thou shalt observe the water rules of the road, using courtesy, common sense and safety.

VIII. Thou shalt not be guilty of "horse - play," sharp turns, "Hot-rodding," or "cowboying."

IX. Thou shalt not let thyself be surprised by sudden storms, for thou shalt have headed for home or the nearest shore at first sign of upcoming blow.

X. Thou shalt not fail to give thy name, address and boat description to someone at they point of departure, advising of thy destination and approximate time of return.

Raid Proves Loopholes In Defense Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seasoned military men say the Communist attack on the key Da Nang Air Base points up the near impossibility of totally safeguarding even a heavily defended installation from guerrillas.

Da Nang is probably the best-guarded of all the bases in South Viet Nam where Americans have posted men, planes and equipment.

About 9,500 Marines have been deployed around the base since early March. For weeks, they have patrolled aggressively far out into the countryside in "search and destroy" operations designed to root out and break up Communist concentrations.

And yet Red guerrillas were able to make a surprise penetration attack on the Da Nang base in darkness.

Roy Allen Scott, 18, of 1523 Wyoming Ave. is due for a Juvenile Court hearing Monday, July 12, on a charge he purchased beer for two other East Liverpool boys, 17 and 16.

The charge is an aftermath of the arrest of the 17-year-old early Wednesday on a charge he rifled the coin container in a soft drink vending machine at Chadwick's Sohio Service Station on Lisbon St., Pleasant Heights.

Juvenile Officer James Miller filed the charge at Lisbon against Scott and also cited the 16-year-old before Judge Louis Tobin on a charge of consuming beer. The 17-year-old who was accused of rifling the coin device already had enlisted in the Navy and he was permitted to depart this morning to be sworn in.

Miller said Scott and the 16-year-old were not involved in the rifling of the machine. After the 17-year-old was found at the service station by Patrolman J. A. Walsh, Scott and the 16-year-old were found at the younger boy's home, he related.

Miller said Scott admitted purchasing two six - packs of beer which were consumed by the trio. As a result, he was charged with contributing to their delinquency. Miller said Scott furnished some of the money for the beer and the others also contributed. The 17-year-old said he consumed four bottles of beer and the 16-year-old "had several," he related.

After a lengthy investigation, the 16-year-old said that he found the key to the soft drink machine while sweeping the floor of the service station while he was employed by Chadwick, the juvenile officer related.

With The Patients

Admitted to Salem City Hospital were Kittie Snyder, Robert Stock and Janet Fourney of Lisbon, Wendy Baker of Rogers, Raymond Rauch of East Palestine and Charles Butler of New Waterford. Discharged were Mrs. Anthony Pezzano and Peter Cibula Jr. of Lisbon and Mrs. Ernest Gotthardt of East Palestine.

Action Taken In Hawk Case

LISBON — A state Supreme Court decision returned nine days ago nullified an habitual criminal indictment against a Wellsville man convicted of three felonies.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of Columbiana County Common Pleas Court Wednesday dismissed the June 4 indictment against Carl Lee Hawk Jr., 25.

Hawk served a prison sentence for burglary and is awaiting transfer to the Ohio Penitentiary to serve sentences on jury convictions of burglary and armed robbery.

The Supreme Court ruling in a Champagn County case—state vs. Winters — held that crimes of "breaking and entering" and "armed robbery" are not specifically listed in the habitual criminal statute.

The statute's list of felonies does include burglary and robbery, but does not mention breaking and entering and armed robbery.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis asked Judge Buzzard to nolle the indictment since successful prosecution would be impossible.

The judge sentenced Hawk yesterday to 10 to 25 years for the $90 armed robbery of Robert Freeman last Feb. 17 in Betty's Market, Wellsville. Hawk is under sentence of 1 to 15 years for a Feb. 19 burglary at Cooper's American Oil Co. Station in East Liverpool. Both trials were in May.

Conviction under the habitual criminal indictment would have brought Hawk a 25-year sentence — the maximum penalty on his last conviction.

Safe Boating Week Deserves Note

By KEN McCREARY

Days, weeks and months observe just about everything from pickles to parents. Perhaps one of the most appropriate "special" weeks is July 4-11, Ohio Safe Boating Week.

This nautically notable week is particularly appropriate since the long July 4th holiday weekend will see a recorrd number of Ohioans afloat.

Officials of the Ohio Division of Watercraft, U. S. Coast Guard and other agencies are hoping the holiday span which kicks off Safe Boating Week will be a repeat of the Memorial Day weekend, when not a single boating death was reported in the Buckeye State.

—:—

ACCORDING to Paul Sarossy, chief of the state's Watercraft Division, overcrowding of boats is one of the prime causes of tragic mishaps. The carefree laughter of a family boat ride in an overcrowded craft can almost instantly become an emergency and panic situation. All too frequently this panic which occurs when a boat capsizes, swamps or sinks results in death.

Fire constitutes another primary cause of death and injury while boating. Among the "fire-free" suggestions for skippers passed along by Ohio Fire Marshal Fred Rice are:

Enforce strict "No Smoking" rules and extinguish all open flames when refueling. Carry the required, approved fire extinguisher designed for use on flammable liquid fires, and know how to use it. Inspect the engine and fuel system thoroughly for leaks before starting.

—:—

THE RULES for boating safety are many and varied, but they all boil down simply to using your head. As Sarossy puts it: "Never go afloat without taking two important crew members—courtesy and caution."

A nut-shell wrapup of the safety guide lines for fun afloat is contained in the "Ten Commandments of Safe Boating," passed along by the National Water Safety Congress:

I. Thou shalt not overload thy boat.

II. Thou shalt not "overpower" they boat with a motor too heavy and too powerful for the size boat it pushes.

III. Thou shalt not fail to have an approved life preserver on board and readily available for each passenger.

IV. Remember, carry thy fire extinguisher, flashlight, flares, tool kit, first - aid kit, whistle or horn, oars, and a substantial anchor with a tested-strength line.

V. Thou shalt not smoke while refueling.

VI. Thou shalt not fail to keep constant watch for floating debris, rocks, other boats, swimmers and water skiers.

VII. Thou shalt observe the water rules of the road, using courtesy, common sense and safety.

VIII. Thou shalt not be guilty of "horse - play," sharp turns, "Hot-rodding," or "cowboying."

IX. Thou shalt not let thyself be surprised by sudden storms, for thou shalt have headed for home or the nearest shore at first sign of upcoming blow.

X. Thou shalt not fail to give thy name, address and boat description to someone at they point of departure, advising of thy destination and approximate time of return.

Raid Proves Loopholes In Defense Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seasoned military men say the Communist attack on the key Da Nang Air Base points up the near impossibility of totally safeguarding even a heavily defended installation from guerrillas.

Da Nang is probably the best-guarded of all the bases in South Viet Nam where Americans have posted men, planes and equipment.

About 9,500 Marines have been deployed around the base since early March. For weeks, they have patrolled aggressively far out into the countryside in "search and destroy" operations designed to root out and break up Communist concentrations.

And yet Red guerrillas were able to make a surprise penetration attack on the Da Nang base in darkness.

74-A Automobiles For Rent

A A DEALER needs cars and pickups. Must be exceptionally sharp. Will pay cash or if payments too high will trade back to older model — finance balances paid off. "Say," why not trade back to one of the most economical cars in the world for approximately $1 a day. You can trade your big costly operating car for a like new Volkswagen with operating on 1c per mile, 5.3 pints of the best oil, get up to 43.2 miles on regular gas, up to 100,000 miles on your first set of tires, also in replacing a new rear fender costs only $18.95, insurance is much, much less on a Volkswagen. Make us prove it. You eliminate water pump, radiator, anti-freeze, hose, clamps, drive shaft assembly. It's a rear end air cooled engine. You can almost trade year for year for the price of power steering, power brakes, power windows, power seat, and automatic on your big costly operating car. Volkswagen has the lowest depreciation, providing you keep it sharp, highest trade in value, and it starts at $1,563 P.O.E. and up. You pay less and save 50c out of every $1 when you drive a Volkswagen versus a big costly operating car. Why not join the millions of people who are driving the Volkswagen. There must be a reason. Come in, write, or call and talk to our courteous salesmen. SEE your local representative Mr. CHUCK RINESTINE. See it — Drive it — Just try it. — There goes another Volkswagen. Why does he drive a Volkswagen? Ask the man who owns one. Beaver Valley Volkswagen, 294 State St., Vanport, Beaver, Pa. Your factory dealer only 20 miles from East Liverpool, Ohio on Pa. Rt. 68. 775-4550.

P. S. PARTS AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY or on tap within 24 hours. STARTING JUNE 20TH Service almost immediately. Call Mr. Charles Coen, your local man from Wellsville and our service manager or Mr. Earl King, parts manager for more information.

74-A Automobiles For Rent

A A DEALER needs cars and pickups. Must be exceptionally sharp. Will pay cash or if payments too high will trade back to older model — finance balances paid off. "Say," why not trade back to one of the most economical cars in the world for approximately $1 a day. You can trade your big costly operating car for a like new Volkswagen with operating on 1c per mile, 5.3 pints of the best oil, get up to 43.2 miles on regular gas, up to 100,000 miles on your first set of tires, also in replacing a new rear fender costs only $18.95, insurance is much, much less on a Volkswagen. Make us prove it. You eliminate water pump, radiator, anti-freeze, hose, clamps, drive shaft assembly. It's a rear end air cooled engine. You can almost trade year for year for the price of power steering, power brakes, power windows, power seat, and automatic on your big costly operating car. Volkswagen has the lowest depreciation, providing you keep it sharp, highest trade in value, and it starts at $1,563 P.O.E. and up. You pay less and save 50c out of every $1 when you drive a Volkswagen versus a big costly operating car. Why not join the millions of people who are driving the Volkswagen. There must be a reason. Come in, write, or call and talk to our courteous salesmen. SEE your local representative Mr. CHUCK RINESTINE. See it — Drive it — Just try it. — There goes another Volkswagen. Why does he drive a Volkswagen? Ask the man who owns one. Beaver Valley Volkswagen, 294 State St., Vanport, Beaver, Pa. Your factory dealer only 20 miles from East Liverpool, Ohio on Pa. Rt. 68. 775-4550.

P. S. PARTS AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY or on tap within 24 hours. STARTING JUNE 20TH Service almost immediately. Call Mr. Charles Coen, your local man from Wellsville and our service manager or Mr. Earl King, parts manager for more information.

Quick, convenient, Economical — that describes Review Want Ads.

A Junior Editors Quiz About CATS

QUESTION: Why do cats dislike water?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Anyone who has tried to wash a cat knows how they dislike water. They will scratch and bite to keep out of it. The reason is that cat fur is not adapted to water, since cats don't have to swim to stay alive. The fur of animals which stay in water most of the time, such as that of the beaver, seal and muskrat, has a dense undercoating which keeps the skin dry. Of course, we humans love to swim and yet we have no wooly undercoating. But our skins dry off quickly when we come out of the water. Also, we can take our damp bathing suit off. The cat's fur is like a wet suit of clothes hanging around him. This is so uncomfortable that he decides it won't happen again. Not all of the cat family dislike water, however. The South American jaguar lives by the edge of rivers which are frequently flooded, and he has learned to swim across them. He is also very fond of fish (what cat isn't?) and scoops them out with his paw, sometimes leaping in to catch them. When it is very hot, a jaguar will often jump into a water hole and slosh around to keep himself cool.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: In spite of what our little friend in the picture seems to think, cats are clean. They rarely need washing because they clean themselves by licking. But you can help your cat by brushing its coat gently (use a bristle or nylon brush, never a wire one). The cat will probably enjoy it, and it will remove loose hair.
